

November, 1945

The Wesleyan Alumnae

Vol. XXI

No. 4

WESLEYAN COLLEGE LIBRARY
MACON, GA.

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

PUBLISHER QUARTERLY BY THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION OF WESLEYAN COLLEGE
MACON, GEORGIA

NOVEMBER, FEBRUARY, MAY, AUGUST

Subscription Price, $1.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter February 12, 1925 at the Post Office at Macon, Georgia under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Executive Secretary:
Jennie Loyall

Volume XXI, No. 4

Editor:
Eunice Thomson

With The Clubs

Mary Stewart (Becking) Smith, Dr. and Mrs. McPherson, Virginia McClellan.

CHATTANOOGA ALUMNAE HONORS McPHERSON

Wesleyan alumnae of Chattanooga, with Mary Stewart (Becking) Smith in charge, entertained with a dinner party at the Meadow Lake Golf and Country Club in Chattanooga September 19 honoring Dr. and Mrs. N. C. McPherson, Jr. of Wesleyan.

Dr. and Mrs. McPherson and Virginia McClellan, A.B. '44, promotional secretary, were in Chattanooga several days as guests of Virginia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Raney on Lookout Mountain. On September 18 Dr. McPherson spoke at Centenary Methodist Church to the Chattanooga District WSCS and Wesleyan Service Guilds.

Wesleyan alumnae welcomed this opportunity to have a personal contact with President and Mrs. McPherson, and to hear from them first-hand the latest news of the college.

ATLANTA CLUB ENTERTAINS STUDENTS

The largest group of freshmen to enter Wesleyan in many years from Atlanta was entertained by the Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Club at a tea in September at the home of Nannaline (King) Byrd of West Andrews Drive.

Group Three of the Alumnae Club were hostesses, with Leola (Miller) Kendrick as chairman. Kathleen (Bailey) Burts is president of the club this year.

A highlight of the occasion was a skit, "Wesleyan, 25 years Ago and Today," written by Martha Rumble, Wesleyan student, with Tracy Horton and Marjorie Soulie as her committee. The skit was enacted by a group of Wesleyan girls.

Members of the Board of the Atlanta Club assisted in entertaining.

AUGUSTA WESLEYAN CLUB

The Augusta Wesleyan Alumnae Club, reorganized last January, held its first meeting of the fall on September 25 at the home of Martha (Henry) Shirkey. Mrs. W. F. E. Cabaniss was guest speaker on the subject of "The San Francisco Conference" which she covered for the press.

The club got out letters to each member before the meeting, setting forth the purpose and plans for the year, and promising that each meeting should be well worth the members' time in providing them with a chance to keep in touch with Wesleyan friends, and to spend an informal, instructive, and entertaining hour together.

Officers are: Ida (Stephens) Williams, president; Harriet (Fiske) Maguire, secretary; Mary (Fiske) Magruder, treasurer.

Mrs. Cabaniss, although not herself a Wesleyan alumna, has a very close connection with the college. Her husband's grandmother, the late Ida (Evans) Eve, was a graduate of the class of 1872.

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

The President Reports

but graduates since then have not been eligible for membership in the A. A. U. W., nor have other graduates who had not joined prior to that time.

Wesleyan College is a fully accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Wesleyan never lost membership in this regional accrediting agency although it was on "probation" for financial difficulties for a few years. The cancellation of the last of the Wesleyan bonds in 1942, bringing complete freedom from the fifteen years' indebtedness of the college, removed the only question which the Southern Association had ever raised about the institution. For many years Wesleyan has also been an institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

The financial condition of the school was responsible for Wesleyan's being removed from the accepted list of the Association of American Universities. So far as I know, Wesleyan's present financial condition will be more than satisfactory to the Association when the committee is able to make another inspection. Dr. Frank H. Bowles, Secretary of the Committee on Classification of the Association of American Universities, has been in the United States Navy during the war and it has been impossible for Wesleyan's application for reinstatement to be considered during the war period. Dr. Fernandus Payne of Indiana University, who is the chairman of this committee, wrote about a year ago as follows:

"I am very much pleased to learn that you are making progress in many directions at Wesleyan College. On the other hand I am inclined to think that the present would not be a good time to give you a rehearing, due to war conditions. Further, consideration cannot be given without a reinspection, and the members of our Committee do not now have the time to make inspections—at least we have cut our work down to the minimum.

"We regret this situation very much but hope you will understand, and I wish to assure you that we will give Wesleyan consideration as early as possible after the war."

Wesleyan College has the largest faculty, the best-trained faculty, and the strongest academic program in its history. Of its faculty of sixty-six, seventeen have their Ph.D. degrees and eleven are members of the Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Society. Whereas, in 1929, when Wesleyan was first accredited by the Association of American Universities, only five faculty members had their Ph.D. degrees and four were members of the Phi Beta Kappa.

The Alumnae Loyalty Fund for 1944-1945 added $11,051.32 to the endowment of Wesleyan College, which is now a little more than a million dollars. In 1929 the endowment was half as large. Today the library has more than twice as many books as then, and equipment has been added in every department.

When the Association of American Universities is again able to make inspections, we feel confident we will have met all of the conditions. Of one thing I am very certain, every dollar added to Wesleyan's endowment this year hastens the day when our graduates will be eligible once again for membership in the A. A. U. W. Five dollars from every alumna would add more than $30,000.00 this year. This is a worthy goal for the Alumnae Loyalty Fund for 1945-46!

Alumnae often ask: "What about the A. A. U. W.?" The American Association of University Women is composed of graduates of approved colleges. The approved membership list of the A. A. U. W. is determined by the "approved list" of the Association of American Universities. Wesleyan College was put on the "approved list" of the Association of American Universities in 1929 and its graduates then became eligible for membership in the A. A. U. W.

The Association of American Universities "voted to suspend Wesleyan College from the accepted list of the Association" in 1937. This action was taken because of the college's apparently unsatisfactory financial condition. Wesleyan alumnae who were members of the A. A. U. W. at that time can retain their membership,

New Faculty and Officials

Newcomers to the faculty of Wesleyan were introduced at the opening exercises on September 12.

Dr. Auley A. McAuley is the new head of the department of biology, succeeding Dr. Clyde E. Keeler who accepted a position at G.S.C.W. Dr. McAuley holds the doctorate from the University of California, and comes to Wesleyan from Hamline University in Minnesota where he has taught for the past four years.

Dr. Richard L. Aldrich, newly appointed professor of fine arts, succeeds Dr. H. C. Forman who is this year teaching at Agnes Scott College. Dr. Aldrich has the A.B. degree from the University of Illinois, the M.A. from the University of Arizona, and the Ph.D. from the University of Michigan. His art mediums include water color, fresco and oil, and his doctor's thesis was on Chou and T'ang art.

Miss Iva Gibson is dean of women at the liberal arts college, and will do some teaching in the English department. She succeeds Miss Katharine Johnson, who will continue on the Wesleyan faculty as assistant professor of English. Miss Gibson is a graduate of Winthrop College and has the M.A. degree from Columbia. She comes to Wesleyan from Winthrop, where she was head resident in the freshman dormitory. She was president of Student Government during her senior year in college, and has had special training in personnel work.

Dr. Laura B. Voelkel is assistant professor of Latin and the history of art. She is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Vassar and has the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Johns Hopkins University. She received the award of the American Academy in Rome for two years and was Vogler Fellow at Johns Hopkins during the past year.

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong comes to Wesleyan as associate professor of home economics, in the place of Miss Maude Chaplin, who resigned last commencement after thirty years of service at Wesleyan. Miss Armstrong is a native Georgian, having her B.S. in home economics from the University of Georgia, the M.A. from Colorado State College. She has taught in schools in Florida for the past ten years.

Miss Margaret Wallace is assistant professor of chemistry. She is this year on leave from Isabella Thoburn College in India, after receiving her doctor's degree from Western Reserve University this fall.

Mr. Gerard Bosch is associate professor of ceramics at Wesleyan school of fine arts. He studied at Washington University in St. Louis, and did advanced work at the University of Chicago. Specialized work he has taken includes study at the Art Institute of Chicago, wood carving at the Warsaw (Poland) Academy, ceramics in Hungary. He has been a craftsman for Tony Sarg, designer of displays for Lord and Taylor, and for Lucien Lelong.

Miss Octavia K. Frees, associate professor of speech, replaced McDonald Held, who is now in the U. S. Army. She will be technical director of the dramatic department. She has the A.B. degree from Adelphi College and the M.A. from Cornell, received a scholarship to the New York School of the Theater and has had professional experience as an actress in radio and on the stage. She has been assistant to Ted Shawn, and has taught at DePauw University, at Emerson, and at Lindenwood College.

Miss Josephine Artingstall joins the faculty as associate professor of design. She is a B.F.A. graduate of the Art Institute and University of Chicago.

Miss Lois Cooper is an additional member of the music faculty as associate professor of piano. She has the A.B. from Whitworth College, graduated in piano from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, has the M.A. in English and diploma in music education from Columbia. She has studied and taught in the Orient for some years, and has recently held a government position in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Eloise Kinney, contralto, Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Cornell University, M.A., Columbia Teachers' College, is new teacher of voice. She studied voice under George Deland of the Ithaca Conservatory, and under Eric Dudley of Cornell. She has sung in church choirs for 18 years, and in the Russell Sage Chapel Choir, and has been a teacher of public school music.

Mr. Forrest Earl Burnham, B.F.A., New York, State College of Ceramics, Alfred University, came the second semester of last year to be associate pro-

MISS IVA GIBSON
Dean of Women, College

MISS DANELLE YATES
Dean of Women, Conservatory

DR. LAURA VOELKEL
Latin and History of Art

MISS ELIZABETH ARMSTRONG
Home Economics

MR. GERHARDT BOSCH
Ceramics

MISS OCTAVIA FREES
Speech

fessor of ceramics and pottery at the conservatory.

Mrs. Carlotta Petrina, who studied at the Art Students League, Cooper Union, New York, came in the second semester of last year to be associate professor of design and illustration.

Miss Danelle Yates, B.A., Sophie Newcomb College, M.A. Columbia University, who was assistant dean of women at the conservatory last year, is this year dean of women, succeeding Mrs. Lula Johnson Comer, who is on the conservatory faculty as instructor in French and Italian.

Miss Martha Frances Hill, A.B. graduate of Berea, M.A. of Duke University, comes to Wesleyan as associate professor of secretarial science. She has studied also at the University of Kentucky, and comes to Wesleyan from Bardstown.

Mrs. Dixon Watson has been added to the Conservatory staff as assistant librarian.

Miss Nannette Rozar returns after a year's leave of absence as dietitian, and will be this year on the Conservatory campus in this capacity.

Miss Virginia McClellan, Wesleyan graduate of 1944, is promotional secretary to Dr. McPherson; Miss Dorothea Jarratt, Wesleyan graduate of 1945, is new library assistant.

Mrs. Mae A. Parker, formerly of Converse College, is assistant hostess. Mrs. Katherine Gravely of South Carolina is in charge of the Information desk in Tate Hall.

Interesting Facts About the New Girls

Great-Granddaughter of Alumna

	Great-Granddaughter of
Abbie Gillespie.....	*Ann Eliza (Smith) Howard, 1849
Mary Launius.....	*Ann Eliza (Smith) Howard, 1849
Mary McKay.....	*Fannie (Myers) Hitch, 1868

Granddaughters

	Granddaughter of
Julia Carreker.....	Jessie (Munroe) Dickey, 1887
Mary Lane Edwards.....	*Mary Roxie (Lane) Edwards, 1876
Sarah Ward Gill	Sarah Ada (Morris) McWilliams, 1884
Elizabeth Gleeson.....	Lenora (Burks) Wimberly
Kate Haywood.....	Anna Kate (Coleman) Hodge, 1890
Pat Johnson.....	Louise (Massey) Solomon, music, 1912
Mary McKay.....	Mary (Hitch) Peabody, 1895
	Annie (Anderson) McKay, 1887
Claudia Rose O'Neal (Conservatory).....	Claudia (Taylor) Bass, 1881
Alice Stafford.....	Alice (Reeves) Stafford

Daughters

	Daughter of
Wayne Aiken.....	Effie (Parker) Aiken, 1918
Lucy Broyles (junior).....	Mary (Jones) Broyles, 1919
Julia Carreker.....	Claire (Dickey) Carreker, 1915
Jane Chandler.....	Mary Frank (McClure) Chandler, 1919
Mary Lane Edwards.....	Emily (Brown) Edwards, 1926
Frances Florence.....	Ethel (Butner) Florence, 1917
Sarah Ward Gill.....	Sarah (McWilliams) Gill, 1918
Kate Haywood.....	Sarah (Hodge) Haywood, 1917
Betty Jo Johnson.....	Loralee (Watkins) Johnson, 1926
Pat Johnson.....	Louise (Solomon) Johnson, 1915
Jane Kendrick.....	Leola (Miller) Kendrick, 1915
Mary McKay.....	Frances (Peabody) McKay, 1925
Emily Mallet.....	Mary (Lane) Mallet, 1917

Lillian Nell Martin.....	Nell (Linhart) Martin, 1927
Claudia Rose O'Neal.....	Amelia (Bass) O'Neal, 1920
Lucile Shi.....	Lucile (Trammell) Shi, 1912
Betty Stanley.....	Bessie (Darsey) Stanley, 1926
Dorothy Stubbs.....	Elma (Sanders) Stubbs, 1923
Marion Thornton.....	Willie (Rich) Logan, 1924

New Girls Who Are Daughters and Granddaughters of Alumnae

Front row, left to right: Frances Florence, Marion Thornton, Dorothy Stubbs, Pat Johnson, Julia Carreker. Second row: Mary Lane Edwards, Jane Chandler, Sarah Ward Gill, Betty Stanley. Third row: Emily Mallet, Lillian Martin, Lucile Shi, Kate Haywood. Fourth row: Mary McKay, Claudia Rose O'Neal, Wayne Aiken.

Wesleyan students come from 21 states, the District of Columbia, China and Puerto Rico in this year of a capacity enrollment at the college and conservatory.

Nearly six hundred students are taking regular work toward degrees at the two schools, besides a number of others who are doing special work at the conservatory in music, and 75 children taking music or art work at the conservatory.

The student who traveled the greatest distance to attend Wesleyan is Mary MeiSung Euyang, who came to the college from Chungking, China. American students traveling farthest are Ruth Wong of Phoenix, Ariz., and Kathleen Boyd of Wenatchee, Wash. Lamar McCaw of Diamond Point, N. Y., comes from the farthest north, and Hazel Gomez of Puerto Rico from the farthest south.

Macon students number 77.

In the freshman class is a girl who was on the program of Wesleyan's opening day in 1928, the first on the new campus at Rivoli! She was a baby at the time and her distinguished grandfather, Harry Stillwell Edwards, wanted her baptized on this momentous occasion and registered as future Wesleyanne. Consequently, one of the events on that first opening day was the baptism of Mary Lane Edwards (named for her alumna grandmother, a graduate of 1876), and her registration for the class of 1949!

Also on that program (and on many another program before and since) there has been a number which another Wesleyan freshman, Roslyn Atkinson, will always feel is peculiarly hers, the Alma Mater. The words were written by her aunt, Margaret (Atkinson) Clark, A.B. '18. The recent negotiations for peace between the United States and Japan recall also that in 1924, when the money for a "Greater Wesleyan" was being raised, Roslyn's great-aunt, Margaret Cook of the class of 1888, sent from her school children in Japan the sum of $200 for Wesleyan to help build the new buildings at Rivoli.

Nieces of Alumnae

Roslyn Atkinson.....	Margaret Cook, 1888 (great-aunt) Annie (Cargill) Cook, 1885 (great-aunt) Louise (Atkinson) Hardeman, 1908 Theodora (Atkinson) Cobb, 1914 Margaret (Atkinson) Clark, 1918 Mary (Atkinson) Whitesell, 1919
Lucy Broyles.....	Reba (Jones) Gates, 1913
Katherine Boardman.....	Mary (Robeson) Boardman, 1914
Julia Carreker.....	*Julia (Dickey) Boyd, 1912 Annie (Dickey) Jones, 1913 Jessie (Dickey) Strickland, 1915
Ann H. Copelan.....	Sarah Lee (Thornton) Jackson, 1909 Celeste (Copelan) Williams, 1925
Margaret Duckworth.....	Anna Brown (Small) Paden, 1928
Mary Lane Edwards.....	Roxilane Edwards, 1902 *Virginia (Edwards) Fender, 1912 Mary Brown, 1915
Jean Evans.....	Louise (Evans) Jones, 1919
Frances Florence.....	Gladys (Butner) Jennings, 1919
Sarah Ward Gill.....	Ward (McWilliams) Garrison, 1918
Mildred Hawkins.....	Alice (Harris) Kester, 1927
Kate Haywood.....	Annie (Harvard) Hodge, 1922
Betsy Hopkins.....	Nina (Fish) McCleskey, 1894 (great-aunt)
Betty Jo Johnson.....	Louise (Johnson) Tillman, 1926 Thalia (Johnson) Gooch, 1935 Sara (Harrell) Johnson, 1937
Jean Jolly.....	Sara (Erwin) Black, 1931
Mary McKay.....	*Mary McKay, 1878 (great-aunt) Louise (Pittman) Peabody, 1932 Burma (Baker) Peabody, 1932
Elizabeth McPherson.....	Mary (Michaux) McPherson, 1927 Modena (McPherson) Rudisill, 1933 Jacqueline McPherson, 1940
Emily Mallet.....	*Annie (Mallet) Watts, 1903 Pauline Mallet, 1909 Maria (Mann) Mallet, 1928 Linda (Anderson) Lane, 1919 Margaret (Lane) Moore, 1927
Jean Moore.....	Reba (Moore) Standifer, 1912 Martha Moore, 1932
Jane Elizabeth Morgan.....	Sara (Gilbert) Tabor, 1934 Alice (Leach) Gilbert
Claudia Rose O'Neal.....	*Minnie (Bass) Burden, 1874 (great-aunt) Georgia (Bass) O'Neal, 1909 Rosa Taylor, 1892 (great-aunt) Odille (Taylor) Preston, 1900 (great-aunt)
Betty Stanley.....	Louise (Darsey) Shoemaker, 1926
Sara Stewart.....	Octavia (Burden) Stewart, 1906
Marion Thornton.....	Flora (Rich) Moody, 1922
Marion West.....	Nannette (Snelling) Robison, 1944

Sisters of Alumnae

Sister of

Wayne Aiken.....	Lelia (Aiken) Tenney, 1940 Martha (Aiken) Pendergrast, 1941
Mary Sue Butler (junior).....	Sarah Louise (Turner) Butler, 1941
Virginia Callaway.....	Frances Callaway (junior)
Emmie Carlton.....	Anne Carlton (junior)
Grace Lin Chu.....	Annie Lin Chu (junior)
Betty Darby.....	Frances (Darby) Wood, 1936 Crystelle (Darby) Chastain, 1938
Pauline Davidson.....	Mary Haines (Davidson) Leonard, 1941 Geneva (Davidson) Smith, 1944

WESLEYAN COLLEGE LIBRARY
MACON, GA.

WESLEYAN PRESIDENT IN ATLANTA

In Dr. McPherson's training school class in Atlanta October 7-11 were two recent Wesleyan graduates, Angela Wilkerson and Dimple Brison. While in Atlanta, the McPhersons had dinner with Ray and Louise Ballard (A.B. '18 and '24) and their mother on Moreland Avenue.

Dr. McPherson preached at Druid Hills Methodist Church in the morning and Glenn Memorial in the evening. At Druid Hills, the decorations were in Wesleyan colors, and the church bulletin carried the notation that they were the colors of Wesleyan College, which the church was honoring on that occasion.

GIFT OF MUSIC COLLECTION TO WESLEYAN

Cmdr. Felix Hargrett of the U. S. Navy has presented to Wesleyan his valuable collection of American sheet music, published for the most part from 1840 to 1860. A few of the pieces date in the 1820's and 1830's, and the collection forms a representative cross section of American music of the time, popular, political, martial, etc. It numbers about 500 pieces, many with lithographic designs, portraits, and views on the cover, some of these in color.

Covering as it does the period in which Wesleyan came into being, the collection is of particular interest as an evidence of the social life during the college's early days.

Cmdr. Hargrett's interest in Wesleyan is of long standing. Many times in the past he has sent to the college items of historical importance which he came across in his search for rare books and pamphlets. Among these were catalogs and printed speeches at the college in the programs of the 1840's and '50's, and a letter written by a Wesleyan girl in 1852. During the Centennial year he sent to the college sheet music of the Civil War period, and some music written by Wesleyan professors of music.

FOR THE HISTORICAL COLLECTION

From Margie Burks, A.B. 1905 of Tallahassee, Fla., came recently for the historical collection a commencement invitation of 1905, programs of an alumnae reunion in October, 1903, and a copy of the contract, signed by President DuPont Guerry, for the addition to the chapel building made in 1905. The architect in charge of the construction was W. R. Gunn of Atlanta.

Adele Dippy.....	Leonore Dippy (sophomore)
Frances Florence.....	Christine (Florence) Houseal, 1940
Carolyn Edge (Conservatory).....	Margaret (Edge) Batts, 1938
Susan Gragg.....	Betty Ellen (Gragg) Austin, 1942
Joyce Hearn.....	Betty Hearn, 1945
Frances Jordan.....	Elizabeth (Jordan) Davis, 1935
	Carolyn Jordan, 1937
Jane Kendrick.....	Betty Kendrick (sophomore)
Emily Mallet.....	Jane Anne Mallet (junior)
Jean Markey.....	Patricia Markey (junior)
Faith Munford.....	Virginia (Townsend) Munford, 1932
	Margaret (Wilson) Munford, 1935
Clifford Wilson.....	Ruth (Wilson) Lipford, 1943
Wilma Woolbright.....	Martha Woolbright, 1942

*Deceased

Wesleyan Presidents' Relatives In Student Body

Five Wesleyan Students represent Presidents' Families.

Five of the students (four new girls and one junior) are related to Wesleyan presidents. They are:

Betty Turner (junior) of Columbus, daughter of Mr. D. Abbott Turner, trustee, who is a great-great-granddaughter of the first president, George Foster Pierce. She was voted "Miss Charming" by her fellow students last spring.

Roslyn Atkinson of Newnan, great-great niece of Dr. William H. Ellison, the second president of the college. Roslyn has many alumnae relatives, and is a great-niece of Mrs. Florrie Cook White, for 32 years in charge of the Wesleyan infirmary, and of Dr. Ed. F. Cook, for many years a trustee.

Mary McKay of Clearwater, Fla., great-great-granddaughter of Dr. Edward H. Myers, the only Wesleyan president to serve two separate terms in this office. Mary represents the fourth generation of her family at Wesleyan. She enters Wesleyan on the 75th anniversary of her Grandfather Myers' first year at Wesleyan, the 50th anniversary of her Grandmother Peabody's graduation, and the 20th anniversary of her mother's graduation.

Claudia Rose O'Neal of Macon, conservatory student, great-granddaughter of Dr. William C. Bass, whose term of office as president was the longest of all the presidents to date. Claudia Rose has many Wesleyan connections, and two of her cousins, Alice and Roy Domingos, are officials of Wesleyan Conservatory at present.

Elizabeth McPherson, only daughter of President and Mrs. N. C. McPherson, Jr., at Wesleyan today. "Lee Lee," as she is called by her friends and family, has moved from the president's apartment to the dormitory and will share all the joys and tribulations of the class of 1949 just as though she had come miles away from home to college.

The present Board of Trustees is well represented in the student body this year.

Dr. Lester Rumble's daughter, Martha, is a senior and president of the Y.W.C.A.

Lt. Herbert Haley's sister, Jane, is also a senior.

Mr. Abbott Turner's second daughter, Betty, is a junior.

Mr. Thomas J. Stewart's niece, Sara, is a member of the freshman class.

The Rev. Henry Hart Jones' third daughter, Laura, is a senior.

Dr. Goodrich C. White's cousin, Roslyn Atkinson, is a freshman.

The Loyalty Fund

The "Victory Crusade" of the Wesleyan Alumnae Loyalty Fund brought to Wesleyan the grand total of $15, 211.82.

Of this amount, $11,051.32 was given for endowment; $3,825.50 for scholarships; and the balance for special projects, a beginning of a building fund for the chapel, campus beautifying, the alumnae house fund.

The number of alumnae giving to the fund this year was 830. Their names were listed by classes in the August and current issues of the magazine, and the names of alumnae who have given to the fund for three successive years are starred.

Four classes reached a total of over $1,000: 1893, 1918, 1925, and 1930.

The class of 1944 had the largest number of givers; 1926 was second, and 1900, 1908, 1918, 1925, 1939 and 1943 tied for third place, with 1940 close behind.

Four Wesleyan Clubs, Macon, Atlanta, Washington, D. C., and Columbus, helped to swell the Loyalty Fund total with their gifts.

1873.....	1.....	$ 1.00
1875.....	1.....	5.00
1878.....	1.....	5.00
1880.....	4.....	26.75
1881.....	1.....	2.00
1882.....	1.....	2.00
1883.....	2.....	105.00
1884.....	5.....	35.00
1885.....	4.....	24.00
1886.....	12.....	69.00
1887.....	3.....	16.00
1888.....	8.....	141.00
1889.....	4.....	31.00
1890.....	14.....	361.00
1891.....	10.....	298.00
1892.....	13.....	201.00
1893.....	17.....	1,117.00
1894.....	12.....	54.00
1895.....	8.....	43.50
1866.....	7.....	259.00
1897.....	5.....	73.00
1898.....	8.....	82.00
1899.....	4.....	21.00
1900.....	21.....	108.20
1901.....	7.....	30.00
1902.....	10.....	86.00
1903.....	10.....	55.50
1904.....	13.....	137.00
1905.....	17.....	252.00
1906.....	16.....	450.50
1907.....	12.....	83.00
1908.....	21.....	148.00
1909.....	11.....	370.00

1910.....	10.....	51.00
1911.....	5.....	88.50
1912.....	15.....	351.00
1913.....	15.....	387.00
1914.....	20.....	180.00
1915.....	16.....	121.00
1916.....	13.....	272.25
1917.....	14.....	221.00
1918.....	21.....	1,178.25
1919.....	19.....	259.60
1920.....	15.....	249.00
1921.....	7.....	94.00
1922.....	12.....	55.00
1923.....	18.....	169.00
1924.....	12.....	71.50
1925.....	21.....	1,181.50
1926.....	22.....	190.50
1927.....	17.....	128.50
1928.....	18.....	152.00
1929.....	14.....	82.00
1930.....	12.....	1,429.00
1931.....	13.....	131.50
1932.....	11.....	58.50
1933.....	16.....	206.00
1934.....	16.....	375.50
1935.....	12.....	179.00
1936.....	8.....	40.50
1937.....	19.....	140.50
1938.....	10.....	824.00
1939.....	21.....	169.50
1940.....	20.....	150.00
1941.....	13.....	68.00
1942.....	12.....	89.00
1943.....	21.....	118.70
1944.....	30.....	196.00
1945.....	5.....	65.00
1946.....	2.....	10.00
1947.....	1.....	5.00
Total		$14,430.25
From clubs and friends.....		781.57
Grand Total.....		$15,211.82

Following are additional contributors to the 1944-45 Alumnae Loyalty Fund since the August magazine went to press. Star at the left indicates that alumna has contributed to the Fund for three successive years.

Contributions which have come in since September 1 will be counted on 1945-46 Loyalty Fund.

1880
Mary Isabella Lovett.
1883
*Dorothy (Blount) Lamar.
1884
*Sallie (Fleming) Davenport.

1886
Stella (Duncan) Cater.
*Fannie (Mathews) Matthews.
1888
*Anne (Bates) Haden.
*Clara (Boynton) Cole.
1890
Elia (Love) Prentiss.
1891
Birt (Thomas) Park.
1893
*Stella Daniel.
*Minnie Robertson.
1894
*Mamie (Robinson) Felton.
1895
*Julia (Pierce) Forbes.
1896
*Jessie Streyer.
1897
*Sadie (Almand) Tucker.
1898
Katie May (Peddy) Cuttino.
1900
*Lucia (Johnson) Edmondson.
May (Wilder) McClure.
1902
Nettie Peacock (additional gift).
1903
Kathryn (Dean) Lee.
1904
*Fannie (Harris) Wallace.
*Minnie Pate.
*Fannie (Winship) Haskell.
1905
Alice (Williams) Benton.
1906
*Leila Birch.
*Octavia (Burden) Stewart.
*Maie Dell (Roberts) Covington.
*Louise Thomas.
*Winnie (Wall) Tucker.
1907
Mattie (Chappell) Lawton.
Lucy (Twitty) Stevens.
1908
*Mary (Scandrett) Sims.
1910
Maude (Phillips) Fry.
*Madge (Rayle) Slaughter.
1912
Carrie Lee Waddell.
1914
*Vera (Bond) Stapleton.
Agnes (Lettice) Freeney.
1915
Margaret (Akerman) Menard.
Leuna (Baskin) Wood.
Bernice (Wright) Wright.
1916
*Christine Broome.
Virginia (Connelly) Courtright.
Ruth White.
1917
Mary Pearl (Chance) Hopkins.

- *Irene (Kilpatrick) Tanham.
 *Helen (Lewis) McKenzie.
1918
 *Marian (Cook) Murphy.
 *Lillian (McRae) Roush.
1919
 Mary Ruth (Jones) Broyles.
 Mary (McClure) Chandler.
 *Hazel (Schofield) Lumpkin.
 Marjorie White.
1920
 Mary Chatfield (additional gift).
 Emmie (Harris) Chandler.
1922
 *Evelyn (Flournoy) Doster.
1923
 *Emily (Barfield) Pridgen.
 Laura (Fraser) Knight (additional gift).
 *Elizabeth (Jones) Williamson.
 Mary Jane (McGinnis) Carter.
 *Winifred Rogers.
 *Mary (Taylor) Peeples.
 *Mildred (Taylor) Stevens.
 Pearl (Woodruff) Langley.
1924
 *Carrie (Brown) Quillian.
 Arline Harris.
 Rosalie (Radford) Stillwell.
1926
 Isabella Harris.
 *ReLee (Mallory) Brown.
1927
 Elizabeth (Anderson) Rankin.
 Margaret (Barge) Cates.
1928
 Elizabeth (Bragg) Sturdivant.
 Addie Funderburke.
 *Ruth (Kasey) Yost.
 Elizabeth (Padgett) Bell.
 *Katherine (Rountree) Christian.
 *Anna Brown (Small) Paden.
1929
 Merk Eula (Crow) Vandiver.
 *Elizabeth (Gill) Blalock.
 *Mary Brooks (Lester) Brooks.
 *Ruth (Mann) Butler.
1930
 *Mary (Banks) Morcock.
 *Odille (Dasher) Phelts.
 Helen (Kilpatrick) Lyon.
1931
 Kathleen (Bailey) Burts (additional gift).
 *Safford Harris.
 *Mary Ruth (Senter) Coleman.
1932
 *Marguerite (Johnson) Blymyer.
 *Frances (Knott) Smith.
 *Dorothy (Quillian) Smith.
1933
 *Carolyn (Bacon) Beard.
 Suelle (McKellar) Swartz.
1934
 Emtelle (Mason) Clisby.
 Brevard (Nisbet) Stewart.
 Evelyn Sewell.

- 1935
 *Katherine (Jordan) Stewart.
1936
 Emily (Boswell) Murphey.
1937
 *Katherine (Kilpatrick) Lamar.
 *Betty (Nylen) McKeown.
1939
 *Joanna Johnson.
 Martha (Zachry) Thwaite.
1940
 *Merle (Dorman) Sauve.
 *Sarah Earle.
 Alice Price.
 *Martha Schaefer.
1941
 *Hazel (Holmes) Burns.

- Eleanor (Shelton) Morrison.
1942
 *Mary Stewart (Becking) Smith.
 *Rebecca (Griffin) Barton.
1943
 Maurine Giese.
 Martha McPherson.
 Margaret Sullivan.
 Sarah Ann White.
1944
 Mary (Smith) Starr.
 Sara Frances Whatley.
1945
 Genevieve Kepler.
 Columbus Wesleyan Club.
 Washington, D. C., Wesleyan Club.

Wesleyan's "First Lady"

Wesleyan is fortunate in having as the "First Lady" of the campus Mrs. N. C. McPherson, Jr., known to her friends as "Betsy." During the four years since her husband came to the presidency of Wesleyan she has endeared herself to everyone on the campus and as the gracious hostess of the college makes visitors feel a warmth that they carry away with them as the spirit of Wesleyan.

A native Georgian, she was Miss Elizabeth Davison. Her family includes her mother, who has many friends at Wesleyan where she is a frequent guest; two sisters, Mrs. F. H. Ward and Mrs. F. C. Welcher whose husband is a physician on the staff of the Alto hospital; and two brothers, Mr. R. C. Davison of Columbus and the Rev. J. A. Davison of Selma, Ala. A cousin, Dr. Hal Davison, prominent physician of Atlanta, was speaker for the opening exercises at Wesleyan in 1943.

On the campus, Mrs. McPherson keeps her apartment hospitably open to faculty and students, and her table in the dining room is rarely without guests. In Macon, she takes an active part in cultural affairs, is a member of the Music Club, of the Macon History Club, of the U.D.C., of Mulberry Street Church. On trips to alumnae club meetings or to other gatherings where she goes with Dr. McPherson in Wesleyan's interest, she is an attractive honor guest, making friends for the college wherever she goes.

The McPherson children are Tommy, medical intern with the armed forces now stationed at Harriett Lane Hospital of Johns Hopkins University where he is specializing in pediatrics; Hoyt, with the 37th Division of the U. S. Army in the Philippines; and Elizabeth, a Wesleyan freshman. A charming new daughter-in-law, Jane Ridgely Rice of Baltimore, Tommy's wife, was added to the family in June.

Mrs. McPherson and "Lee Lee."

Scholarship For Wesleyan Students

The Macon Alumnae Club this year gave six $100 scholarships, three for the college of liberal arts, three for the conservatory. They went to: Jane Morgan, Betty Atwater, Frances Smith, Jean Moore, Theresa Rett, Pansy Young.

The Maria Weaver Burks Scholarship, given for the third time this year by Annie (Turner) Hightower, was awarded to Ophelia Trice.

The Leon Perdue Smith Scholarship, given by Annie (Turner) Hightower, went to Rosaline Gilmore.

The Eling Soong K'ung Scholarship, given by Mme. K'ung's classmate, Annie (Turner) Hightower, was given to Alice Ruth Stafford.

The Eloise Ainsworth Scholarship, given for the third time by Hattie (Saussy) Saussy, is being held for a Savannah student who will enter Wesleyan the second semester.

The Olive DeFoor Brittain Scholarship, given for the second time, goes to Mary Chambers.

The Dickerson Moore Scholarship, given for the third year in memory of the Rev. Dickerson Moore by his granddaughter, Marian (Cook) Murphy, was given to Jane Epps.

The Columbus Wesleyan Club gave its $100 scholarship this year to Wilma Woolbright of Columbus.

The Ruth Benedict Watson Scholarship, given for the second time, was awarded to Betty Jane Daniel, daughter of Professor J. W. W. Daniel of the Wesleyan faculty.

The Mary Richardson Register Scholarship, given for the first time this year by this alumna, went to Grace Lin Chu, one of the three Chinese students at Wesleyan this year.

The Phi Delta Phi Scholarship, given for the fourth consecutive year by the Society, went to Jane Anne Mallet, member of the junior class.

The Octavia Burden Stewart Scholarship, given for the third time this year, was awarded to Thelma Brownnett.

The T. J. Stewart Scholarship, given for the first time, was awarded to Sara Stewart.

The Marie McManus Kernaghan Scholarship, given for the first time this year, went to Bertha Stanfield.

The Bowen Scholarship, given for the third time by Robert and Lottie (Felder) Bowen, went to Beverly Reichert.

The Anna Morrison Scholarship, given by this alumna for the first time, went to Marion Chapman, as did also

The Laura Fraseur Knight Scholarship, given for the first time this year by this alumna.

The Leila Davis Copeland Scholarship, given in memory of her mother by Mary (Copelan) Evans (for the third consecutive year) went to Gladys Tarpley.

DuPont Guerry Scholarship from the endowment given in memory of President DuPont Guerry of Wesleyan by Eling (Soong) K'ung last year were given to Wesleyan's Chinese students.

The Marion Luse Chenery Scholarship in Music, provided for from the income of a gift by Dr. William L. and Marion Luse Chenery, was given to Marion Lewis.

The Alpha Delta Pi Scholarship went this year to Mary McKay, great-granddaughter of the late President Edward

H. Myers of Wesleyan.

The Phi Mu Scholarship was given to Emily Mallet, second daughter of this family to come to Wesleyan.

The Thomasville Rotary Club Scholarship was given to Mary Euyang, Chinese student.

The J. P. Travis Bible Class Scholarship, given by this class of Wesley Monumental Church in Savannah, was awarded to Mary Giglia.

In addition to the named scholarships above, there are others whose donors wish to remain anonymous, and still others which have been endowed and are accumulating income to be used to help some Wesleyan girls in the future.

The newest addition to these endowed scholarship funds is that of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. This organization made a capital gift through the Loyalty Fund this year to which they expect to add each year.

National Methodist Scholarships

Five Wesleyan students have the distinction of being among the first college students to be awarded National Methodist Scholarships. They are: Anne Strozier, Greenville, Ga., freshman; Elizabeth Harman, LaGrange, sophomore; Lenore Dippy, Orlando, Fla., sophomore; Betty Wisdom, Chipley, Ga., sophomore; and Patricia Markey, Jacksonville, Fla., junior.

These scholarships, for $350.00 each, cover all tuition and fees in full for the college year. The money represents a percentage of the proceeds of the offering in all Methodist churches on Methodist Student Day, the second Sunday in June. This plan was authorized by the 1944 General Conference, and went into effect for the first time this fall.

THEY RECEIVE NATIONAL METHODIST SCHOLARSHIPS

Anne Strozier, Elizabeth Harmon, Patricia Markey, Betty Wisdom. (Lenore Dippy was absent when the picture was taken.)

The scholarships are available to a limited number of students in each of the 84 colleges accredited by the University Senate, which is the accrediting agency of Methodist educational institutions. Dr. H. W. McPherson, head of the Division of Educational Institutions of the Methodist Board of Education, announced that 250 young persons in all parts of the country may be recipients of the scholarships this year.

To be eligible for a scholarship, a student must rank in the upper 15 per cent of his high school or college class, must have at least a "B" average, and meet other high requirements in character and service.

The establishment of this Scholarship Fund is an indication of the deep interest on the part of church people in enlarging the opportunities of young people for higher education. Capable young persons are helped to prepare for the vocation of their choice in a world in need of Christian leadership.

Elizabeth Harman is from Greenville, Ga., and was one of the winners in the competitive examinations last year. She is a member of the Fine Arts Club on the campus, and last year was president of the Freshman Commission.

Anne Strozier is also from Greenville, although she was born in Atlanta. She was a Girl Scout leader in high school, treasurer of the senior class, manager of the basketball team, president of her local League of Youth Fellowship, chairman of the Methodist Youth Fellowship Sub-district Worship Committee, and a member of her church choir. One of her reasons for coming to Wesleyan was her admiration for a Wesleyan alumna in her town, Sarah (Culpepper) Cutts, A.B., '25.

Betty Wisdom of Chipley is a member of the Wesleyan Spanish Club. At high school where she graduated she was secretary of the senior class, and participated in district meets, essay contests, debates and dramatics. Her father is county school superintendent of Harris County.

Leonore Dippy is from Orlando, Fla., although she lived in Philadelphia, Penn., until her junior year in high school. She was representative of her class in Student Council and was secretary of a Latin Honor Society. She is studying French and German at Wesleyan because her ambition is to go to Europe to help in reconstruction work.

Patricia Markey graduated at High Springs, Fla., High School, where she was president of the senior class, president of the Beta Club, head of the Honor Court, and president of Student Government. She was an officer in her district Methodist Youth Fellowship groups. At Wesleyan she is associate editor of The Wesleyan, student literary magazine, on the Y.W.C.A. Activity Council, a member of Scribes, and was class representative in the beauty section of the annual. Her younger sister, Maria, is a freshman at Wesleyan this year.

MULBERRY STREET CHURCH GIVES WORK SCHOLARSHIPS

Another evidence of the close tie between Wesleyan College and Mulberry Street Methodist Church is the establishment this year of five scholarships for Wesleyan students who will assist in the young people's work of the church.

Dr. Silas Johnson, pastor of Mulberry and former executive vice-president of Wesleyan, announced the scholarships, in the amount of $275.00 each. The girls will work under the direction of Miss Louise Sipple of Mulberry and of the Department of Religion at Wesleyan.

Students holding these scholarships are: Emily Britton of Camilla, junior; Anne Carlton of Oxford, junior; Peggy Worley of Stamford, Conn., senior; Jeanette Campbell of Macon, junior; and Ellen McKinnon of Atlanta, conservatory sophomore.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

Mr. Harold Ehrensperger was guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week at Wesleyan, from September 30 through October 5. Mr. Ehrensperger, who delivered the address for the formal opening of Wesleyan in the fall of '44, has had wide experience in the field of literature, particularly of religious literature. He was a member of the English faculty of Northwestern University, and created a department of drama and literature at Garrett Biblical Institute. He is at present editor of the magazine, MOTIVE, published especially for young people by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Ehrensperger has an especial appeal for young people, and was a great favorite with Wesleyan girls, who found in him a real friend. In addition to his talks in chapel each day, he spoke to the faculty one evening in an informal meeting, and had personal interviews with the students throughout the week.

Two Wesleyan Professors and Their Freshman Daughters

Left to right: Professor C. W. Bruce and Barbara; Betty Jane and Professor J. W. W. Daniel.

Dr. Quillian Speaker On Benefactors' Day

Wesleyan welcomed two old friends to the campus on October 15 when Dr. and Mrs. William F. Quillian returned for the occasion of Benefactors' Day. Dr. Quillian was speaker at the exercises held in the Porter Gymnasium, and the two were honor guests at a reception in the Burden Room afterward at which new members of the Wesleyan faculties were introduced to Macon friends.

Dr. Quillian's address began with a sentence which he had first used at Wesleyan shortly before he took over the presidency of the institution in 1920: "What ought to be done for Wesleyan College can be done, and by the grace of God and the good will of the people, it shall be done!"

He spoke of the thousands who have aided the college in the past, of the great progress which has been made under Dr. McPherson's administration, and of the bright future which lies ahead for Wesleyan. Of his own and his family's affection for the college he spoke with feeling. His wife, the former Nonie Acree, is a Wesleyan graduate; his daughter, Christine, wife of the president of Huntingdon College, is a graduate; his son, William F. Quillian, Jr., who grew up in the college while Dr. Quillian was president, holds the doctorate from Yale and is now on the faculty of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Academically, as well as materially and financially, Wesleyan made great strides during Dr. Quillian's administration. The planning, money-raising, and building of the new college of liberal arts at Rivoli took place during these years, and he was personally responsible for the securing of many large gifts, among them the gift of $118,000 from Mr. B. N. Duke which made possible the raising of the last $200,000 in the financial campaign. The faculty was strengthened, and Wesleyan received wide recognition in the educational world.

After the exercises, friends thronged to the parlors for a formal reception and social hour. They learned that the Quillians were leaving soon for Montgomery to see their new grandson, born October 13, Christine's third child and only son.

Dr. Quillian said in part:

"This old institution has made marvelous progress and today stands at the threshold of the greatest period in her long and glorious history.

"Man can do what needs to be done. The history of the world is the record of man's achievement. The great institutions of the world have been founded by men of faith and vision.

"Education and religion have always been closely related. Education means 'to lead out' and religion 'to bind back.' Lead out to the realization of one's possibilities, but constantly bind the soul and the life to the highest comradeship with Christ in God.

"We are finding a new day of opportunity and responsibility. The children of our day must recognize that we must have one world, and that all nations of every race and creed must be given a chance to realize their possibilities as the children of God.

"This Mother of Colleges has rendered high service by sending out choice young women who have caught her spirit and ideals. She shall move out into the future, ready for a larger and better service to God and humanity."

LOYALTY FUND RECEIVES BEQUEST

The Loyalty Fund received in October a check covering a $250.00 bequest from the estate of Rhea Opal Bryan of the class of 1908, who died in August, 1944, in Illinois.

There have been larger benefactions in Wesleyan's history, but none which represents a greater depth of love and loyalty. The gift has a significance far beyond its actual value.

It is a generous part of Rhea Bryan's estate. She worked for many years as a secretary with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. She had heavy demands to meet; at one time the care of an invalid mother, at another many months of illness herself. She gave to the Loyalty Fund every year, wishing always that she could do more for her college. For Wesleyan was a major interest in her life, and she found real joy in having an active part in its welfare.

In her will, she provided a sum which will more than take care of two scholarships at Wesleyan, or will amount to the income on an endowment of more than $5,000. She would have wanted no more fitting memorial than this investment in the lives of Wesleyan students of today.

One of her friends wrote to the college after her death:

"She talked often of Wesleyan, and thought that Wesleyan gave to its students something different and fine."

New Members of the Wesleyan Family

Sarah Ann and Joyce Akers, ages four and six, adopted daughters of Dean and Mrs. Samuel L. Akers of Wesleyan.

INFORMATION PLEASE

Together with this issue of The Wesleyan Alumnae there will come to you a copy of the attractive new Wesleyan booklet, "Information Please."

Arranged to tell the high school girl the things she wants to know about Wesleyan College and Wesleyan Conservatory of Music and School of Fine Arts, it answers questions about cost and opportunities for self-help, requirements for admission, what Wesleyan offers in the way of student activities, religious development, sports, publications, social contacts, courses leading to the A.B., B.M. and B.F.A. degrees and secretarial diploma. It also tells the prospective student many other things which catalogs omit but which every girl wants to know: How many dates may I have? How many nights may a freshman be away from school? What kind of entertainments are held on the campus?

Throughout the book are charming, informal drawings of the college girl at work and play. The booklet is dedicated to "Each and every one of you eager intellectuals whose thirst for knowledge will (we hope!) lead you to Wesleyan."

Please familiarize yourself with the facts in the booklet, and then see that it gets into the hands of some girl who will be interested in coming to Wesleyan—your daughter, or some other high school girl in your town. If you need additional copies, write to: The President's Office, Wesleyan College, Macon, Ga.

CAMP WHEELER TO CLOSE IN JANUARY

Camp Wheeler will close in January, having trained 200,000 infantrymen since its opening in 1941 in World War II.

The late Harry Stillwell Edwards, author and friend of Wesleyan, is responsible for the camp's being placed in Macon in 1917, during the first World War. The site of the camp was on his property and he went to New York City to confer with his friend, Theodore Roosevelt, about the plan to place the camp here. Roosevelt wrote a note on Edwards' calling card to Major Gen. Leonard Wood: "This man is the salt of the earth. Do what he wants you to." In a short while the camp site was chosen here.

When the first troops of the first World War arrived, they were given lunches by the Y.M.C.A., the Red Cross, and the Wesleyan College girls. Ever since that time, Wesleyan and the camp have had a close relationship. General A. R. Emery, who was the first commander of World War II, realized the historical value of "Kingfisher Cabin," the famous workshop of Harry Stillwell Edwards which was on the property, and supervised its removal to the Wesleyan campus when the Edwards family gave it as a memorial to the writer.

General John H. Hester was one of the commanding Generals of Wheeler. His wife's mother, who made her home with the Hesters, was Leila (Conner) Richardson, a Wesleyan graduate of the class of 1885.

Many officers' daughters became students at Wesleyan, among them Elizabeth Buzzell, daughter of Gen. R. W. Buzzell. In the freshman class last year, "Betty" received a scholarship for one of the highest records in the class.

Many Wesleyan girls attended entertainments and parties at the camp, and the "dates" on both Rivoli and Conservatory campuses for the past four years have been, for the most part, men in uniform from Camp Wheeler.

Wesleyan alumnae held responsible positions at the camp. Margaret Hatcher, now overseas, was the first librarian. Fannie McGehee and Martha McPherson were assistant hostesses at the Guest House, where Katharine Carnes' sister, Estelle Carnes, was in charge. Emily (Brown) Edwards has been connected with the Wheeler hospital for some time, and recently has been in charge of a program of rehabilitation for returned veterans. And there were many other alumnae in offices at the camp.

The extensive program of "Grey Lady" work in connection with the hospital was organized and headed by Alleen (Poer) Hinton, A.B. '12, and by far the majority of the Grey Ladies were Wesleyan alumnae who gave many hours of volunteer service to helping the soldiers in the hospital.

In Memoriam

George Elijah Rosser

Wesleyan students and alumnae of the years between 1910 and 1941 will be grieved to learn of the death of Dr. George Elijah Rosser in a Macon hospital on August 25 after a brief illness.

Dr. Rosser was born in Covington, Ga., received the A.B. degree from Emory in 1900, the B.D. from Garrett Institute, and the Th.D. from Boston University. He also studied at Union Theological Seminary and at Columbia.

He was married in 1906 to Miss Ruby Sharp, who was also for some years on the Wesleyan faculty as a teacher of Bible. In 1926 Dr. and Mrs. Rosser realized the dream of a life-time in an extended trip to Palestine, and Dr. Rosser's book, "In a Chariot of Fire," was the account of this trip. He was the author, also, of "A New Era in Philosophical Theology."

In 1940, just before Wesleyan opened, Mrs. Rosser's sudden death brought to an end the long and devoted companionship of these two, and Dr. Rosser's students have felt concern for him during the years of loneliness that were his since that time. However, he bravely continued his work at Wesleyan for another year, and after his retirement in 1941, kept up his many interests, and his hobby of walking far and wide over the roads around Macon, "holding converse with his thoughts," as well as with many people he encountered on his route.

Of late he has looked increasingly frailer, but was still seen often on the streets of Macon, and refused to give up to illness. Thus he had been a patient at the hospital only a brief time before he went to join the "good companion" of whom he spoke with so much tenderness.

Surviving are a brother, John E. Rosser of Dallas, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Alfred S. Holcomb of Panama City, Fla., and Mrs. L. C. Warren of Hazlehurst, Ga.; several nieces and nephews.

Glenn Priest Maerz

News of the death on September 30 of Mrs. Glenn Priest Maerz, wife of Professor Joseph Maerz and herself for 23 years a member of the Wesleyan faculty, will bring sorrow to hundreds of Wesleyan girls. Not only her former pupils of violin, but music lovers of Macon and many other cities in this section, will miss her.

She came to Macon in 1914 when her distinguished husband became a teacher of piano at Wesleyan. In 1918, she became head of the department of violin at the college. She had studied under Charles N. Allen of Boston and Franz Kneisel of Boston and New York, and had played in concerts all over America. At Wesleyan she delighted innumerable audiences as soloist and as violinist in a symphony orchestra. No musical evening was complete without her. Her sweet and attractive personality, as well as her sound musical ability, made her a great favorite.

In May, 1941, she suffered a stroke of paralysis, and since that time has been an invalid. Her husband and her older son, Lucian, who was her constant companion and nurse, devoted themselves to making her as comfortable as possible. Last year, when Professor Maerz gave one of his delightful musical programs on the Rivoli campus, she was able to accompany him in the car and greeted her old friends with the same enthusiasm and charm. This year she was too ill to come, but he spoke proudly of her courage and cheerfulness. Only a few days later, she died.

An editorial in a Macon paper about Mrs. Maerz and Mr. Ferd Guttenberger, two musicians who died the same day in the city, said: "She was a lovely and kindly lady and gave freely of her time and talent to the musical and cultural life of the city. Besides teaching at the Conservatory she was an active member of the Macon Music Club and of the History Club. Macon can ill afford to spare these two talented and courageous spirits."

A son, Paul, with the armed forces stationed at Camp Gordon, is the other member of the Maerz family.

Steadman Vincent Sanford

Dr. Steadman Vincent Sanford, chancellor of the University System of Georgia, died in Atlanta September 15 following a cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered three days earlier while attending a meeting of the Board of Regents.

Wesleyan College joins all the educational institutions of the South in mourning the passing of this outstanding educator, termed by the Governor of the state as "one of Georgia's very greatest citizens of all times."

Dr. Sanford's sister, Annie (Sanford) Allen, is a Wesleyan alumna of the class of 1897, and to her, as well as to his wife and three sons, Wesleyan extends sympathy.

Dr. Sanford came from a family of educators, his own textbooks being widely used in the schools of the nation. He was born in Covington in 1871, and graduated from Mercer in 1890. After thirteen years as teacher and superintendent in Marietta schools, he joined the faculty of the University of Georgia in 1903. He was named dean, later president of the university, and then chancellor of the university system, positions he filled with distinction.

He was a man of scholarly attainments, had rare gifts as a speaker and educational organizer, did much to raise the standards of collegiate athletics in the South, and was sacrificially interested in developing the educational system of the state. Messages of sympathy and flowers from educators all over the United States poured into Athens on the day of his funeral in the fine arts building of the university, and the Athens Banner Herald devoted virtually its entire Sunday issue to the Chancellor's career.

Ralph L. Ramsey

Mr. Ralph L. Ramsey, former trustee of Wesleyan, and former Secretary of the Georgia Education Association, died suddenly this summer in Atlanta. Mr. Ramsey was at the time of his death Executive Secretary of the Teacher Retirement System.

He was made a trustee of Wesleyan in 1938, succeeding Col. Sam Tate. The Georgia Education Journal said of him:

"The hearts of all the teachers in Georgia are saddened by the sudden and untimely passing of Ralph L. Ramsey, whose life was a highly constructive force throughout the State of Georgia. His magnetic personality won for him a multitude of friends. His professional leadership stimulated his fellow teachers to greater achievement in their work. As a minister he filled the pulpits of leading churches. His memory as scholar, teacher, and friend will be a forceful influence in the lives of all who knew him."

His daughter, Betty, was a Wesleyan student in the class of 1947, and to her we extend sympathy.

Mills B. Lane

Mr. Mills B. Lane of Savannah, Chairman of the Board of the Citizens and Southern National Bank and benefactor of Wesleyan College, died in August at the age of 85.

Mr. Lane entered business with his father in Valdosta in 1881, and devoted his life to the banking and financial structures of the South, serving as president of the Citizens and Southern for 23 years. He was elected president of Georgia Bankers Association, an organization of which his father was the first president, on its fiftieth anniversary in 1941. He was one of the first to realize the importance of Dr. Charles Herty's experiments in new uses for the pine tree.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, and four sons.

D. A. Horn

Wesleyan was grieved to learn during the summer of the sudden death of Mr. D. A. Horn of Atlanta, brother of Annabel Horn, A.B. '06. Dean of Wesleyan Conservatory, and of Vernon Horn, A.B.

'07 of Chicago. Mr. Horn was the father of another Wesleyan alumna, Evelyn (Horn) Wooten of the class of 1945.

Evelyn's younger sister, Virginia, is making her home this winter with her aunt Annabel and her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Raiford Horn, at Wesleyan Conservatory and is attending Miller High School in Macon. Mrs. Horn celebrated her 93rd birthday recently.

Ferd A. Guttenberger

Ferd A. Guttenberger of Macon, grandson of Philip Guttenberger, the famous blind music professor of Wesleyan's past, son of Ferd A. Guttenberger who succeeded Philip on the faculty, died in Macon October 1.

Mr. Guttenberger was himself prominent in musical circles in Macon, frequently appeared on programs, and was responsible for bringing many fine musicians to the city in concerts. He was proprietor of the Guttenberger Music Company.

During the Wesleyan Centennial in 1936, he took the part of Philip Guttenberger at the Alumnae banquet, playing some of the numbers which were on Wesleyan programs of long ago days.

His wife, who was Fliss Matthews, received the B.M. degree at Wesleyan, survives, and his five sisters: Mrs. Frank Scott, Columbus; Mrs. George Willis, Jacksonville; Mrs. Harry Digg, New York; Mrs. George White and Miss Lena Guttenberger, Macon.

IN MEMORIAM

Addie (Wright) Chestnutt, 1872.
Sarah (Sparks) Vickers, 1874.
Alice (Cheatham) James, 1878.
Floride (Woolfork) Shackelford, 1874.
Mary (Brantley) Findlay, 1877.
Susie (Woolfolk) Clarke, 1881.
Mary (Pickens) Simons, 1888.
Elizabeth (Anderson) Anderson, 1889.
Ida (Phillips) Harris, 1889.
Margaret (Heyward) Carter, 1890.
Anna (McGehee) Whittington, 1890.
Sarah (Divine) Cook, 1891.
Annie (Mallet) Watts, 1903.
Carrie Reunette Westcott, 1916.

WEDDINGS

Anderson—Walline

Shirley Anderson, 1946, to Lt. Comdr. Charles Sayer Walline, USN, in June.

Avera—Peterson

Louise Avera, A. B. 1945, to Lt. Cletus William Peterson of Kenosha, Wis., in November.

Balfour—Mattox

Elizabeth Balfour, 1944, to Lt. P. W. Mattox, July 11.

Balkcom—Bevard

Sarah Ann Balkcom, Conservatory

1946, to Capt. Franklin Blake Bevard of Baltimore, August 18.

Chylinski—Lykke

Miriam Chylinski, A.B. 1945, to Peer Lykke of Norway in New Orleans, August 3.

Costa—Atkins

Marianna Costa, 1947, to Ensign Ernest C. Atkins of Marietta, June 1.

Davison—Gentry

Elizabeth Davidson, 1947, to William Thomas Gentry III of Atlanta and Macon in November.

Deweese—Schanche

Priscilla Deweese, 1947, to Donald Arthur Schanche, U. S. Navy, engagement announced in September.

DuPuis—Mackin

Dorothy DuPuis, A.B. 1938, to First Lt. Donald P. Mackin of East Norwalk, Conn., in the fall.

Ethridge—Blackwell

Marian Ethridge, A.B. 1942, to Major John O. Blackwell of Sparta, September 24 in Yuma, Ariz.

Fant—Vroman

Jean Fant, 1945, to Robert Charles Vroman, USMCR of Grass Valley, Calif., in July.

Finsher—Smith

Phyllis Fincher, Conservatory, 1948, to Lt. Clark Bridgland Smith, USAAF, of Philadelphia, Penn., September 22.

Fiske—Stewart

Margaret Fiske, B.B. '45, to Lt. L. D. Stewart of the air corps in July.

Fry—Greer

Mary Justice Fry, 1942, to Capt. Ernest Parker Greer of Camden, Tenn., in the fall.

Gott—Morris

Jean Gott, 1942, to Sgt. Sam Morris of Memphis, Tenn., in August.

Green—Martin

Clyde Afay Green, B.M. 1945, to Captain Don E. Martin, Chemical Warfare Service, U. S. Army, October 10.

Harrison—North

Florence Harrison, 1945, to Hugh Davis North, Jr., of Atlanta, former Captain in the Army Air Corps, August 7.

Hotaling—Bland

Bettie Ann Hotaling, A.B. 1945, to Lt. Byron Lanier Bland, Jr., of Eufaula, Fla.

Hunt—NeSmith

Wilhelmina Hunt, 1944, to Robert Marilyn NeSmith, U. S. Merchant Marine, of Eastman, in July.

Johnson—Bedingfield

Betty Lloyd Johnson, 1946, to Wade R. Bedingfield of Augusta, June 25.

Jones—Schwartz

Helene Jones, A.B. 1945, to Lt. Charles Garfield Schwartz, Jr., of East McKeesport, Penn., August 25.

Jones—Ten Hagen

Ruth Jones, Conservatory senior, to Lieutenant Donald Ten Hagen of the 15th Air Force in July.

Kepler—Wilson

Genevieve Kepler, Conservatory 1945, to William James Wilson, Jr., of DeLand, Fla., September 5.

King—Trowbridge

Betty King, A.B. 1942, to Lt. (jg) William Joseph Trowbridge of Anderson, S. C., July 8.

Koplin—Oliner

Norma Koplin, B.M. 1943, to Capt. Joseph K. Oliner of Hartford, Conn., in August.

McPherson—Piper

Martha McPherson, A.B. '43, B.F.A. '44, to Harvey D. Piper of Auburn, Ala., September 14.

Maddox—Oglesby

Rosalyn Maddox, 1947, to S/Sgt. Nicholas Purkins Oglesby of Charlottesville, Va., in July.

Merry—Clouthier

Shirley Merry, 1947, to Joseph V. Clouthier of Worcester, Mass., in August.

Moses—Rooks

Ruth Moses, 1948, to S/Sgt. Ned Rooks, Army Air Forces, July 3.

Pim—Kinsman

Jean Pim, 1946, engagement to Flight Officer Walker Clark Kinsman of Griffin, announced in July.

Player—Reseigne

Bobbie Player, 1946, to Captain Samuel F. Reseigne of Springfield, Mich., July 8.

Puryear—Holmes

Gertha Puryear, A.B. '45, to Cpl. Louis Benton Holmes, Jr., of Jackson, Miss., June 15.

Schaefer—Lawson

Martha Schaefer, A.B., B.M. 1940, to Sgt. William Pattillo Lawson of Macon and the Panama Canal Zone, engagement announced in August.

Sessions—Collins

Ida Emily Sessions, 1932, to William Alfonso Collins of Milledgeville, in September.

Stapleton—Pate

Jane Stapleton, 1945, to Ensign Jack Almand Pate of Cordele and Atlanta, July 14.

Stivers—Heckman

Rachel Lou ("Wakie") Stivers, 1947, to Captain Edward Heckman, Jr., of Atlanta, October 21.

Terry—Calkins

Marilyn Terry, 1946, to Lt. Radford Chamberlain Calkins of Sarasota, Fla., in the summer.

Trippe—Williams

Henrietta (Odum) Trippe, Conservatory 1931, to Pvt. Frank Thomas Williams, Jr., of Turner Field in March.

Walker—Stuckey

Coy Yvonne Walker, Conservatory 1939, to Lt. Henry M. Stuckey of Bamberg, S. C., September 30.

Walker—Foster

Laura (Smith) Walker, L.B. 1906, to Albert G. Foster of Madison, in September.

Weatherly—Greene

Amelia Weatherly, A.B. 1941, to Warren E. Greene of Ft. Valley, August 6.

Woolbright—Millirons

Martha Woolbright, A.B. 1942, to Captain C. P. Millirons, Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn., October 13.

WITH THE RED CROSS OVERSEAS

Three more Wesleyan girls have joined the ranks of the Red Cross overseas within recent months.

Lorraine (Williams) Garrett, A.B. 1930, is in India as American Red Cross staff assistant. Before her appointment with the Red Cross she was a reporter for the Associated Press, Columbia, S. C., and Raleigh, N. C., and previously was editor and publisher of CAMEO, a magazine which has had a wide circulation in South America.

Marian Clyde (Cook) Mickelwait of the class of 1922, arrived in Italy recently as Red Cross assistant club director. She served before this time with the Red Cross at National Headquarters with the Prisoners of War Unit, and previously was chairman of the Staff Assistant Corps, District of Columbia Chapter.

Mary Thomas Adams, class of 1935, is in England, serving as Red Cross Staff Assistant. She was associated with the Shell Oil Company in Atlanta before her appointment, and was a volunteer worker with the USO Travelers' Aide Service in Atlanta.

CHAPLAIN WILSON RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

Lt. J. Frederick Wilson, Chaplains' Corps, U. S. Navy, returned this summer from a 20-month tour of duty in the South Pacific and joined his wife and two little daughters, Victoria and Margaret, who have made their home in Camilla.

Lt. Wilson, son of Nell (Whiting) Wilson, '11, is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Emory University, having received the A.B. degree in 1935 and the B.D. degree in 1938. He was assistant pastor of Glenn Memorial Church while a student, and served as Conference Director of Youth Work and as pastor of the Methodist Church in Jeffersonville before coming to Wesleyan in 1941 as instructor in the Department of Religion.

Since January, 1943, when he left to begin his training in the navy, he and his family have been greatly missed on the Wesleyan campus. As a chaplain he served at the Naval Training Station, Farragut, Idaho; at the Navy's Submarine repair base, Brisbane, Australia; and at one of the Navy hospitals in New Guinea.

Wesleyan girls with whom he was a most popular teacher will be delighted to know of his safe return. In June he performed the marriage ceremony for one of them, Harriet Brannan, A.B. '43, who married Lt. George Henry Meier in Americus.

After a leave in Georgia with relatives,

he reported to Pensacola, Fla., for further duty.

ALFRED JENKINS MARRIES

Lt. Alfred LeSesne Jenkins, U. S. Naval Reserve, was married on October 14 to Miss Martha Elizabeth Lippiatt of Washington, D. C. Alfred's foster father was President C. R. Jenkins of Wesleyan.

CLASS NOTES

1872

Addie (Wright) Chestnutt of Savannah died in July at the age of 91. She was the widow of Joseph Benjamin Chestnutt, who was vice-president of the Citizens and Southern Bank. Mr. Chestnutt died in Ostend, Belgium, in 1914. Addie had one daughter, Mrs. Remer Lane Denmark, two grandsons, Remer Lane Denmark, Jr., and Capt. Joseph B. C. Denmark, four nieces and four nephews. She was a member of the Independent Presbyterian Church, and was past regent of the Savannah Chapter of D.A.R.

1874

Sarah (Sparks) Vickers, 89 years of age, died in September in Gadsden, Ala. She lived in Macon until her marriage in 1883 to Ashley E. Vickers of Laurens County. Her father, the late Ovid Garten Sparks, was at one time mayor of Macon. She is survived by three daughters, one son, and two grandchildren.

1878

Alice (Cheatham) James died in May in a Montezuma hospital. She had made her home in Reynolds with her daughter, Annie May (James) Carson, 1917, and took an active part in the Methodist church there even up to her last years. She was married in 1879 to Capt. Thomas Jefferson James, and was the mother of four sons and two daughters. She had eleven grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

1884

Lilla (Everett) Flournoy and her husband, J. A. Flournoy of Ft. Valley, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in June. They were given a dinner party by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Flournoy of Macon.

1886

Emma Smith, still busy with many interests in spite of the fact that she retired this year after 59 years as a teacher in Macon, writes:

"I want to thank all of our class for their generous gifts to the Loyalty Fund.

"Blanche (Hall) Neel has returned from St. Joseph's Hospital in Atlanta where she had an operation on her eyes.

The doctor assures her that her sight will be better than it has been for years.

"For a long time Florence Leonard has wanted to work in Alaska. A card postmarked Sitka, Alaska, indicates that her wish has been granted."

1887

Sallie Boone's friends are delighted at the remarkable comeback she made from her serious illness of last year. Recently the Sallie Boone Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church honored her with a surprise birthday party. In the early fall she came out to Wesleyan with her Wesleyan friends, Lila May Chapman, Agnes Barden, and Ida (Mangham) Coleman for a visit.

1888

The class will be grieved to learn of the death on August 23 of Mary (Pickens) Simons in Dublin following a heart attack. She was a loyal alumna and Phi Mu, and was last at Wesleyan for the graduation of her youngest granddaughter in 1944. Her daughter, Annie (Simons) Smith, is a Wesleyan alumna, as are also her granddaughters, Lt. (jg) Maryan Smith, A.B. '39, and Dotte (Smith) Mahon, A.B. '44.

Mary was a belle of Charleston, S. C., when she married James S. Simons, Jr. After moving to Dublin, she devoted much of her time to Christ Episcopal Church, where she was organist for over 30 years. She was one of the most highly respected and deeply loved women of Dublin, truly a "grande dame" in all the best meaning of the word.

1889

Elizabeth (Anderson) Anderson, wife of Mr. W. T. Anderson, editor of The Macon Telegraph, died October 4 after a long illness. The granddaughter of Thomas Hardeman, Sr., one of Macon's pioneer settlers and an early trustee of Wesleyan, she has all her life felt a close tie to the college. During the Centennial year she was a consultant on the history of the college, gave the diplomas of Achsah Sparks and Ovidia Hardeman, and lent a daguerreotype of Thomas Hardeman for the historical exhibit. Only last year she gave to Wesleyan a handsomely carved tortoise-shell comb worn in the 1830's by Mrs. Thomas Hardeman. The Hardemans sent seven daughters to Wesleyan, the oldest of these being in the very first graduating class. The youngest, Ada Frances (Hardeman) Anderson, 1851, was Elizabeth (Anderson) Anderson's mother. She had in her home during Elizabeth's girlhood several nieces who attended Wesleyan, and it was in her memory that her son, Dr. John Anderson, gave a fund establishing a scholarship fund known as the Ada Frances Hardeman Anderson Fund. Her daughter, Elizabeth (Anderson) Anderson, has also helped girls to attend Wesleyan. An editorial by Mr. Charles J. Bayne said of her: "Hers was a life of exceptional service to others, softened and sweetened by an instinctive sense of the gracious amenities which belonged in a peculiar degree to the womanhood of the Old South. Her name was a center of social activities in the broader and best sense of the word, and over it she presided with easy grace until affliction laid its heavy hand upon her. The community suffers a heavy loss in her passing."

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of the Mary Hammond Washington Chapter of the D.A.R., of the Macon Town Committee of the Colonial Dames.

Annie (Cannon) Varn was a guest at Wesleyan for the opening of college when her nephew, Dr. William Cannon, made the opening address in the George Foster Pierce Chapel. Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth, her fellow-Adelphean, was one of the college friends who welcomed her to the campus. Annie's husband, the late Josiah Varn, was a leading citizen of Bradenton, and prominently identified with the civic and commercial life of the city. For many years head of the Ocala, Fla., schools, he was president of the State Teachers Association, and later he won a wide reputation as a citrus grower.

Anita (McClendon) Miller was featured on the cover of a recent issue of "Beat of Wings," a magazine of poetry, with the following quatrain called "The Honey Bee":

The honey bee, with lyric hum,
Woos every flower impartially,
Rose, violet, chrysanthemum,
And wayside weed, and wild plum tree.

1890

The class of 1890 sympathizes with Lila May Chapman in the unexpected death of her brother, Harry D. Chapman of Macon, on July 31. Mr. Chapman was a prominent business man, partner in the lumber firm of F. D. Chapman and Co., an alderman in the city council, council member of the Macon-Bibb County Board of Health, active member of the Tattnall Square Baptist Church. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Clair (Chapman) Harrison, Lila May Chapman (Conservatory graduate of 1936), and Harriette Chapman, and by three grandchildren. Margaret Chapman, A.B. '28, is his niece.

Sympathy is extended to Alice (Grace) Jacobs in the death of her husband in July.

Margaret (Heyward) Carter of this class died in Savannah September 26 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Watson Cordes. No more moving summary of her life could be given than the editorial which appeared in the Savannah Morning News as follows:

"Mrs. Margaret Heyward Carter, who died here yesterday, was a fine type of Southern woman whose background and character enabled her to live a useful life, marked by exceptional fortitude which was mixed with a rare gaiety.

"Her brightness of outlook on the things of the world around her was a constant inspiration to those who were privileged to know her and to witness her courage and independence in the face of difficulties.

"The mother of seven children, three boys and four daughters, she was left a widow when the youngest was 12 years of age.

"Mrs. Carter's lifelong refusal to permit maudlin sentiment to dim her vision of the realities of life, coupled with a sturdy approach to whatever problems confronted her, won her a unique place in the affections of her townspeople. An ardent churchwoman, she did not, however, wear her religion on her sleeve.

"The remembrance of her radiant personality, which she possessed to the last, will reinforce the hopeful belief among her family and friends that somewhere beyond the rim of this world the spirit of a brave woman is capable of overcoming what men call death."

1891

Birt (Thomas) Park lives now in Phoenix Ariz., where she finds much joy in her Sunday School of boys and also a class of Indian boys and girls on the desert. She writes, "I was interested in reading in the alumnae magazine about Ida (Frazer) Turrentine who was one of my best friends when I lived in Miami. She graduated in June of the year I was born, yet she is as spry and active as a much younger woman, and I am always astonished at her youthful outlook on life."

Mary Culler White studied feature writing at the University of Georgia this summer to "shake the rust off the old pen." Author of "The Life-Story of Alice Culler Cobb" and "The Days of June," Mary Culler White is working on another book. The almost-complete manuscript of her biography of a Chinese woman had to be left behind in the hands of fellow-internees when she boarded the Gripsholm for repatriation in December, 1943.

1892

The Macon News had an article recently about Nellie Edwards, saying in part: "In recognition of 48 years of public service as a clerk in the board of education offices, the News today salutes Nellie F. Edwards. Her work began in 1896, and for 20 years she did all the clerical work in the office. She handled all bookkeeping, stenographic and supply allotment work for all school records and materials handled for the county schools, and issuing a yearly report from all members of the board, teachers, and committees. Two years ago she retired because of illness, and now spends her spare time traveling. She served under six superintendents."

Hermione (Ross) Walker sent to Wesleyan in August a painting of old "Aunt Cindy" by Eugenia Small. "Aunt Cindy," a former slave, worked for Wesleyan many years, and when she was too old and crippled with rheumatism to work she was allowed to have her own room in the college yard and sell candy and peanuts to the girls.

1893

It was Lula (Fulghum) Vincent's son, John Carter Vincent (brother of Margaret Vincent Smith, A. B. '24), who was recently appointed director of the State Department's Office of Far Eastern Affairs. "Carter," as his mother calls him, graduated from Mercer University in 1923, after serving in the Army during the First World War. After post-graduate work at Georgetown University he started his diplomatic career in 1924 as a clerk in the American consulate at Changsha. Afterwards he was assigned to a number of places in China, then the consulate in Geneva, Switzerland, then back to China. He was one of three men selected by former Vice-President Henry Wallace for a good will tour through Siberia, Mongolia, and China in 1944, and has been chief of the State Department's Division of Chinese affairs since January 15, 1944. His appointment is considered significant as an indication of a change in American policy in the Far East. Heretofore top officials in the department have been specialists on Japan, but henceforth they will be specialists on China.

1894

Nina (Fish) McCleskey's son-in-law,

Maj. Gen. Charles H. Gerhardt, outstanding combat general and commander of the 29th Division which went into Europe on D-Day, was welcomed home with high honors when he came to Macon for a leave with his family in June. It was the first time in two years that the General had seen his wife and two children, Nina, 15, and Charles, 12. General Gerhardt was decorated by the French and Russian governments.

1895

Sympathy is extended to Loretta (Bullock) Birdsey in the death of her husband, Samuel R. Birdsey of Macon, in June.

Florrie Jean (Richards) Lightfoot is a loyal alumna, and keeps in close touch with her Alma Mater. She often sends copies of her poems to the college, and is planning to get up a volume of poetry to be printed soon. This is one of her recent poems:

Autumn Time

Fragrant days,
Dreary days,
Summer glories past;
Crimson leaves,
Garnered sheaves,
Memories that last.

Bird songs stilled,
Hopes fulfilled,
All the woods a-rhyme,
Fragrant days,
Dreamy days,
Golden autumn time.

1896

Leila (Gerdine) Burke and her husband, the Rev. William Burke, are the proud grandparents of a new grandson, James Gerdine Burke, the son of their son, James, and his wife. James is in China as a war correspondent.

Sympathy is extended to Burney (Sheffield) Covington in the death of her husband, Judge W. A. Covington of Moultrie, in June. Judge Covington was elected to the Georgia legislature in 1905 and was re-elected in 1907. During this time he was co-author, with the late Gov. L. G. Hardeman, then a member of the house, of the state-wide prohibition bill which put Georgia among the ranks of dry states. He was also a leader in the legislative fight which resulted in the abolition of the Georgia convict lease system. He served three terms as mayor of Moultrie. As one of Georgia's outstanding attorneys he appeared in some of the notable criminal and civil cases in the southern circuit for 40 years. Besides his wife, he leaves two sons and a daughter.

Jessie Streyer is working with the Atlanta and St. Andrews Bay Ry. Co., as accountant in the freight office at Dothan, Ala. She has two nephews in the army who are very dear to her. One has been in France for over a year. The other is in the states.

1897

Nell (Griswold) Anderson's son, Peyton, promoted to the rank of Commander in the Navy, on active duty since 1941, and in the Pacific area since April, 1944, has returned to Macon and resumed his work as president of The Macon Telegraph.

1898

Lucy (Evans) Stephens and Dr. Stephens had all the children and grandchildren with them at one time or another during the summer. Their son, Major Robert G. Stephens, Jr., is in Nurnberg in the Documentation Division helping in the preparation of evidence against Nazi prisoners. His wife and children are with his parents while he is in Germany. Emma (Stephens) Wilson and her husband visited his family in Alabama and hers in Georgia. Emma later attended a conference in Michigan in connection with her work in Evanston.

Sympathy is extended to Clara (Rumph) Grice in the death of her husband, Associate Justice of the Georgia State Supreme Court Warren Grice, in May. Judge Grice was the author of The History of Georgia Bench and Bar and of a treatise on laws as to administrators, executives and guardians. He served as president of the Georgia Bar Association in 1927. Clara has two sons, Samuel R. of Marshallville and Lt. Benning M., USNR; and two daughters, Ruth and Elia (Wesleyan, 1933). Lt. Benning Grice was on the USS Bennington, the navy's newest type of floating airport, which participated in air attacks on Tokyo and Iwo Jima.

1899

Mr. Ralph B. Small, business, religious and cultural leader of Macon, died in October after a long illness. Sympathy is extended to his wife, Annie (Kimbrough) Small, to his daughter, Brownie (Small) Paden, '28, and to his four sons.

1900

Lucia (Johnson) Edmondson's son-in-law, Lt. Col. Charles B. Duff, is stationed in Washington after being in the Pacific since 1941.

Emmie Lela (Gramling) Perkinson of Marietta has been working as secretary and assistant in the office of her husband, Dr. W. Howard Perkinson, and has also served as supervisor in "surgical dressings" of Cobb County Red Cross. Her oldest son, Lt. Tom Gramling Perkinson, USMCR, after serving 16 months in the South Pacific, was severely wounded on Dec. 28, 1943, at Cape Gloucester, New Britain. He was awarded the Silver Star, Presidential Citation for conspicuous bravery, and the Purple Heart and sent to Parris Island as an instructor. Her second son, Neil Gramling Perkinson, Emory graduate of 1943, is in a naval medical unit at Bowman-Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, N. C. Her only daughter, Howard Gramling Perkinson FitzSimons, who lives at home while her husband, a Lieutenant Commander in the USNR is on duty, has two sons, J. M., Jr., and Howard Lee.

1903

Annie (Mallet) Watts, wife of the proprietor of the Central Hotel in Macon, mother of Martha Watts, A.B. '28, and sister of Pauline Mallet, '09, died in Macon October 4 after a brief illness. She was born in Jackson, Ga. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, a son, now in the U. S. Army in California, three grandchildren, two brothers, and a sister. Two nieces, Jane Anne and Emily Mallet, are at Wesleyan this year.

1905

Anne (Shaw) Richardson is delighted to have her son, Capt. Charles Richardson, home from overseas duty with the medical corps. Capt. Richardson was one of the first to go overseas. His wife and son, Charles III were with the Richardsons in Macon awaiting his arrival.

1906

Sympathy is extended to Susie Findlay in the death of her mother, Mary (Brantley) Findlay of the Wesleyan class of 1877, after an illness of several years. She was the widow of Arthur P. Findlay, who was for 35 years treasurer of the Bibb Manufacturing Company in Macon.

1907

Willie (Erminger) Mallary has moved to Live Oak, Fla., where her husband has accepted a position as secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association.

The Bronze Star medal was posthumously awarded Tatum (Pope) Happ's son, Lt. Lee M. Happ, Jr., U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, for heroic service on Saipan Island in June, 1944. The young officer is survived by his widow, the former Anne Shirley Williams; a daughter, Olivia Tatum; his parents, and a sister.

1908

Sympathy is extended to Nancy (Freeman) Stringer of Anderson, S. C., in death in August of her only brother, Robert Hill Freeman. An honor graduate of Georgia and Columbia, he served overseas in World War I, became dean of the University of Maryland Law School, and president of the Newnan Cotton Mills. Nancy spent some weeks with him in New York during his long illness in a hospital there in the summer, and later with her mother in Newnan. Her sister Mary who was a guest at commencement a year ago with Col. Hobby is now at Lieutenant Colonel in the WAC.

1912

Ves Parker of Arcadia, Fla., having brought up two nieces as her own daughters, is beginning over again with her "grandchildren." She has legally adopted the three children of June, her older niece: Gene Allard, DuPont Guerry (named for Wesleyan's former president), and Ves Parker, ages 8, 4, and 2 years. Her younger niece, Vivian, B.M. 1940, has been with her this year. To the children Ves is affectionately known as "Grandarling."

1913

Dora (Dunwody) McManus had the thrill of welcoming home her son, Lt. John D. McManus, this summer after his liberation on May 2 from a German prison camp. Lt. McManus was shot down over northern Italy on January 14, 1944, when he was on his 26th mission.

Martha (White) Watson's daughter, Martha Emma, is having a successful career on the stage in New York. She played all last winter in The Seven Lively Arts, and in addition gave much time to the entertainment of wounded soldiers in the hospitals in and around New York.

1917

Wesleyan had an especial interest in the graduation at Vassar this year when Edith Turpin, daughter of Edith (Culpepper) Turpin, and Mary Grace, granddaughter of the late Ruby (Jones) Grace, A.B. '91, received their degrees. Both girls took a prominent part in the activities at Vassar. Both recently gave piano recitals at Skinner Hall. Edith graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors, and was chairman of the press board, on the staff of the student newspaper, president of her residence house and adviser of first-year students. Mary was a member of the modern dance group. Mary's major was music, and she gave her recital alone on June 21, her father going up from Macon to be present for the occasion and for her graduation. Edith's mother and father went to Poughkeepsie for her graduation also. She is studying music at Wesleyan Conservatory under Prof. Maerz, and is teaching in Macon.

Elizabeth (Davenport) Plant's lovely daughter, Betty, was married on October 2 to Major John Theodore King of Baltimore, Md., in Christ Church, Macon. Betty is a granddaughter of Alice (Lowrey) Davenport, A.B. '85, of Americus.

Sympathy is extended to Gertrude (Hay) Jones and her husband in the death of their son, Cpl. Blake Jones on Okinawa on June 5. Cpl. Jones volunteered for service in the Marines in 1941, and went overseas in February, 1944. Gertrude's older son, Peyton, Jr., died in 1935 when he was a high school senior. She has one daughter, Elizabeth Jones Clark, and a grandson, Lemuel Clark, Jr.

1918

Kathleen (Rogers) Pape's 15-year-old daughter, Kathleen, a student at Brenau Academy, studied music with Prof. Joseph Maerz of Wesleyan Conservatory during the summer.

Sympathy is extended to Frances (Park) Carter in the death of her husband, Ray Carter of St. Simon's Island, Ga. Mr. Carter had for the past three years operated the Golden Isles Hotel at St. Simon's.

The Macon Telegraph carried a feature story recently by Sara (Singleton) King telling of an unusual incident which came out of the war. During World War I, when Sara was a student at Wesleyan, one of her classmates was Nyok Me Pan of Shanghai, China. Having lost touch with the Chinese girl for some years, Sara ran into her in 1939 in Atlanta and renewed her friendship. Each had a young son, Vung Tsung Chen, a student at Emory University, John King several years younger. More years passed. Vung Tsung became an American citizen and a soldier in the American army. When John was 18 he volunteered and was sent to Sheppard Field in Texas, and there he found V.T., who was more like a brother to him than a friend. "That's a story for you, Mr. Ripley," writes Sara.

1919

Mary (Armand) Ellis' son, Pfc. Charles Stevens Ellis, was married in April to Muriel Dorothy Walters of England, in London. The other son, Sgt. Armand Ellis, is in the Pacific with MacArthur's forces.

1920

Willie (Snow). Ethridge's husband, Louisville, Ky., newspaper publisher, has been assigned by Secretary of State Byrnes to investigate political conditions in Rumania and Bulgaria, it was announced recently from Washington.

Allie (Van Devender) Williams' son, Lt. Harry Williams, after serving with the Eighth Army Air Forces, and winning the air medal with a silver cluster, has returned home and is studying at the University of Georgia.

1921

Katherine (King) Snellgrove's husband, G. Emmett Snellgrove, has been appointed assistant manager of the Macon Chamber of Commerce. He was for many years connected with The Macon Telegraph and has recently been assistant chief of information of the War Food Administration in Washington.

1925

Mary Bennett (Cox) Dunwody was an attendant in the wedding of her sister, Gene, who was married to Lt. Col. Roland Bennett Anderson in October. Mary Bennett, her husband, and sons, Elliott and Eugene, went to Washington to the ceremonies, which were held in the Garden Room of the Wardman Park Hotel where the Cox family lives when in Washington. Gene is the daughter of Representative and Mrs. Eugene Cox of Camilla.

Helen (McNatt) Bradley writes: "My 'brood' of three keeps me busy, but I manage to find time to devour every word of the alumnae magazine when it comes. Some day I am going to write a long and newsy letter! In the meantime, I enclose my check for the Loyalty Fund."

1926

Mary (Bennett) Wilson lives in Arlington, Va., where she and her husband have bought a lovely new home with a walled garden. Mary's husband has the Cuban desk in the State Department, and they have a five-year-old son, Howard, who is a most attractive child, according to his aunt, Lois (Bennett) Davis, who says he is being brought up "as children used to be." Lois, who studied journalism under Miss Virginia Garner at Wesleyan, is now society editor of The Macon News.

Freda (Kaplan) Nadler writes telling of a thrilling tour of the West which she and her husband had with another couple who were driving to the West Coast. They visited Des Moines, Omaha, Salt Lake City, Reno, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, and after a week in California went to La Jolla and Tia Juana, then back East.

1927

Sympathy is extended to Gladys (Baynard) Martin in the death of her father in May.

Susie (Heard) Fleischer went to Puerto Rico in June to join her husband, Capt. Julius Fleischer, who is stationed there.

Ruth (Ricketson) Whipple's husband received his Doctor of Theology degree this spring from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas, and has accepted the vice-presidency of East Texas Baptist College in Marshall, Texas. He is a son of Alice (Feagin) Whipple, A.B. '91. The Whipples have four children, Bob, Jr., Virgil, Dan and Miriam.

1928

Carolyn (Lockett) Carter moved to West Columbia, S. C., this year, where her husband is representative for Bauer and Black Surgical Company. Time hung heavy on Carolyn's hands, so she got a job as Executive Secretary for the Crippled Children's Society of her county, and enjoys her work. Her young daughter, Betsy Anne, is ten and in the fifth grade now.

Pauline (Spratling) Merritt welcomed her husband, Lt. Col. B. F. Merritt, Jr., home for a 30-day leave in the summer after 40 months overseas. Col. Merritt was first attached to Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters in the North African campaign. Later he went to England and served with the 12th Army Group Headquarters. During the invasion of France he was with the 21st Army Group under Gen. Montgomery, later returning to duty with the 12th Army Group under General Bradley. Col. Merritt headed the operations section for the U. S. in the nerve center controlling all shipment of men and supplies by water from Britain to France.

1929

Elmina (Chambers) Feagin's husband, Major Robert Douglas Feagin, Jr., received the Bronze Star medal in the European theater. Elmina and her young son live with her husband's parents in Macon.

Katherine (Rountree) Christian writes that her father, retired from active ministry in the South Georgia Conference, has a home in Tifton, where Katherine lives also. Her husband returned from war work in Pearl Harbor where he has been stationed for 18 months.

1930

Mary (Banks) Morcock has a new daughter, Emily Day, born June 26. This is her third child. Woody is now seven and in his second year in school. Lucy Floyd is almost four, and Mary is happy to have two little girls to send to Wesleyan one of these days.

Virginia (Carter) Baisden of Roseland, Fla., has three children, a daughter, Katharine, in high school; Carol, aged 12, and "Bunky," the son, aged 4. The girls are both planning to come to Wesleyan, and are planning their work in school already with that in mind. Besides their mother, they had a great-grandmother on their father's side who came to the "Oldest and Best."

Mallette (Crum) Cabero's husband is a prominent merchant, farmer and banker of Hawkinsville, and was recently named chairman of the Pulaski County United War Fund of Georgia.

Josephine (Humphries) Jones and her husband take prominent parts in the civic, social, and religious life of Dublin. Wilbur Jones is agent for Sinclair products, and is past president of the Chamber of Commerce. They have twin daughters, Joanne and Annette.

Geraldine Jackson attended a Spanish Language Institute in Mexico City from June 25 through August 15. Gerry teaches at Miller High in Macon.

Winifred (Jones) Smith has a daughter, Nancy Christine, born June 21 at Emory University Hospital. Dr. Smith is professor of English at Emory. The baby's sister is Hesta Suzanne Smith.

Winnefred (Stiles) Bell has a daughter, Winnefred Stiles, born June 18 in Mobile, Ala.

1931

Eugenia (Coleman) Wasden and her daughters are happy to have Dr. Charles Wasden back home again after several years in Italy with the U. S. Army Medical Corps. Dr. Wasden held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the army, and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service.

Alma (Sheridan) Dill's brother, Lt. Phil Sheridan, prisoner of war in Italy since February, 1944, was liberated in May and returned home this summer. Alma's little daughter, Mary Alma, was born June 15 in South Dakota.

Alice Moore (Warren) Smith has a daughter, Laura Anne, born October 2.

Josephine (Willingham) Crandall's husband was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel with the 53rd Troop Carrier Wing in France. He wears four battle stars for major campaigns, having participated in air invasions of Normandy, Holland, Southern France, and the Rhine.

A pathetic story appeared in the newspapers over International News Service about three-year-old Lynn Heath of Hazlehurst who is dying of cancer and has been the recipient of nation-wide sympathy and expressions of concern. The child is the daughter of the late Frances (Warren) Heath, who died in April of the same disease. The child's father wrote through International News Service to thank the many people who sent gifts and suggestions for treatment for his little girl. Her grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Warren (a sister of the late Dr. George Elijah Rosser of the Wesleyan faculty), is constantly at her bedside, and the child, unmindful of her condition, enjoys her books and songs and Sunday School stories, and speaks often of what she will do "when I grow up." Mr. Heath, an attorney, says, "If the tragedy of my life and daughter can be the cause of other potential cancer victims getting necessary treatment in the early stages, and can cause people to contribute more generously to organizations fighting cancer, their lives will not have been given in vain."

1932

Mary (Culpepper) Evans lives in Griffin, Ga. She has two sons, 9 and 10, and a daughter 3.

Clara (Jackson) Martin and her children, Ann, 10, and Frank, Jr., 7, are at home in Gadsden, Ala., while her husband, a Lieutenant Colonel in the Judge Advocate General's office, is serving in Manila.

Martha (McCaw) Almand, her husband, Dr. Joe M. Almand, formerly of the Wesleyan faculty, and their children, Carver and Joe, Jr., have moved to Hogansville, Ga., where Joe is head chemist for the U. S. Rubber Company's plant there.

Virginia (Townsend) Munford visited Katharine Carnes in Macon in October and enjoyed seeing her old Wesleyan friends. Virginia and her young son, Robert, are living in Clarksdale, Miss., while Sims, now a full Colonel, is in China with the army.

1933

Carolyn (Bacon) Beard has a daughter, named Merriwether for Carolyn's father, and called "Merry." She was born December 17, 1944, and is a future Wesleyanne.

Sympathy is extended to Carol (Flatau) Joselove in the death of her husband, Lt. Julian Joselove in the AAF Regional hospital at Robins Field after a brief illness. Carol has one young son, Julian, Jr.

Suelle (McKellar) Swartz wrote of a visit to her family made by Dorothy (Tinsley) Daily, her husband, and little daughter, Martha Jane. Dorothy and Maurice, in this country on furlough after several years as missionaries in Cuba, gave a series of talks in the Raleigh Court Methodist Church in Roanoke, Va., where Suelle's husband is chairman of the Board of Stewards, on the subject of Mayari, where they were responsible for the building of a lovely new church and parsonage. Suelle enclosed an attractive booklet which her church had printed about the work the Dailys have been doing. On the cover is a picture of Dorothy and Maurice, Martha Jane and Tommy. In addition to their many duties in connection with the organization and building of their church, the Dailys established a Dispensary for Children which during its first six months held over 2,000 consultations with patients.

Dot (Manget) Hogan's brother, Flight Officer Frederick D. Manget, was killed while participating in the largest air-borne operation over Wesel, Germany, on March 24. He was very talented in music, and was accompanist for the Duke University Glee Club before enlisting. His commanding officer wrote of the enjoyment his musical talents gave his fellow squad members.

Carolyn (Sammons) Thomson is living in Ft. Valley while her husband, a lieutenant (jg) is in the navy. He recently returned from the Pacific, and was stationed in San Francisco when Carolyn wrote. She has a 13-year-old son who is a freshman in high school in Ft. Valley.

1934

Harriet (Blomquist) Raska's daughter, Florence Anne, was born August 1 in Sacramento, Calif. She is to be called "Anne," for Miss Anne Banks Armand, formerly bursar of Wesleyan.

Ruth (Cox) Lantz and her family have moved to Nashville, Tenn., where her husband is associate editor of the Methodist publishing house. She writes: "I have already done some writing for The Christian Home and The Classmate, and may get to do some illustrations which thrills me even more. I was at home for a week this summer when Roberta (Cason) Cox was there with her family. Her girl and boy and my two boys had a grand time together."

"Evelyn Sewell's address is 1225 S. Van Ness Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. She is doing secretarial work there and loves it. Her mother is there and she is near her brothers."

"I had a delightful visit with Charmian (Stuart) Thomson and her Bobby just before we left Chicago. She is just the same and doesn't look a day older, and her boy is a live wire! I talked to Emma (Stephens) Wilson. She is busy helping her husband with his Y work at Northwestern. I saw Frances (Eleazer) Schneider when she was home from Philadelphia with her 15-month-old son, a perfect doll of a child as you would expect."

Wray (Shepherd) Marsh's husband has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel, now stationed in Brussels, Belgium.

1935

Louise (Caldwell) Arnall's brother, Lt. Ernest W. Caldwell of Alvation, was killed in action in the Philippines June 18, writes Katherine (Jordan) Stewart. Katherine's husband is assistant chief of surgery in the 125th Evacuation Hospital in Europe, and Katherine is keeping house in Lumber City for her father and her two-year-old son.

Virginia Evans has received her M.A. degree at George Peabody College in Nashville, and is starting on her doctorate in Northwestern. Virginia, whose home is in Indiana, writes: "It has been ten years since I've been in the South, and I really miss it! Some day I want to revisit Wesleyan."

Dorothy (Tinsley) Dailey, her husband and children, Tommy and Martha Jane, visited Wesleyan in the summer. They are on leave from their mission work in Cuba, and will study in the states for a year in New York, Dorothy and Maurice at Union Theological Seminary.

1937

Helen (Davis) Exley's brother, Capt. T. Forest Davis, received the Bronze Star medal from Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce of the 77th Infantry Division for his heroic action during the Leyte campaign.

Katherine (Kilpatrick) Lamar's daughter, Louise, celebrated her fifth birthday with a party on September 4 at her home in Idle Hour Estates. Louise is a granddaughter of Louise (Monfort) Kilpatrick, '40, and a great-grandniece of Dorothy (Blount) Lamar, Wesleyan alumnae trustee. She has a sister, Kay, and a brother, Henry.

Marjorie (Savage) Kirkpatrick's husband, Rev. Dow Kirkpatrick, is a chaplain in the U. S. Army, now stationed in Sampson, N. Y.

1939

Frances (Campbell) Hughes appeared in the fourth of the summer series of concerts sponsored by Emory University and The Atlanta Journal. A newspaper article said of her: "Her beautiful voice and glamorous personality have delighted audiences in Georgia and Florida. She hails from Tennessee, but is at present making her home in Atlanta and is soloist in the choir of St. Philip Cathedral. Her husband, Major E. C. Hughes, is stationed in Manila. He was the former editor of The Cobb County Times. They have a three-year-old daughter, Corrie, who loves to sing with her mother, even to negotiating the trills."

Kathleen (Grady) Horne's husband, Capt. Fred Horne, is now operations officer of the Third Composite Squadron at Ft. Benning, a veteran of 114 combat missions. He wears the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf clusters and the Asiatic-Pacific Theater ribbon with a major battle star.

Annie Wheat (Jones) Smith's husband, Captain Dudley Smith, arrived in the United States in the summer after two years in England as personnel officer for a B-17 Flying Fortress group. Captain Smith (son of Fannie Lou Armor Smith of 1908), his wife and little daughter, Patricia, spent some time at Sea Island Beach. Released from active duty, he has accepted a position on the Richmond, Va., Times-Dispatch.

Carolyn (Malone) Carpenter has a second daughter, Sarah Josephine, born July 4. She is living now at 28 Collier Road, N. W., Atlanta, Ga.

Martha (Zachry) Thwaite's husband, a Lieutenant Colonel in the army, has been in the European Theater since April, 1944, recently in Munich, occupying the home of a German officer, General Von Epp. When Martha wrote in July he was about to get his discharge and she was thrilled over his early return home. They have a young son, "Charlie Boy," now 2½ years old. Martha and the boy have been with her parents in Waycross. In June her grandmother, who made her home with them, died. Martha's brothers, Lt. A. Taylor Zachry, now at Lawson General Hospital after being wounded in Germany, and Pfc. Robert B. Zachry, Jr., with the marines at Cherry Point, N. C., were at home on leave at the time. Martha writes of seeing Marguerite Stallings, who is working for the railroad in Savannah, and Kathryn (Parker) Saunders and Clara (Puckett) Winston in Tifton. Clara's husband, a Lieutenant Commander, has returned from the Pacific and is attending a Flight Surgery School in Pensacola where Clara and the children, Lane and Peggy, will join him.

1940

Julia (Harper) Fisher and her husband have bought a home in Waltham, Mass., 623 South Street. They have two little daughters, Judy, six, and Caroline, a year old in October.

Lee (Rees) Buttram has a son, William Elliott, born September 20 in Chattanooga.

Eleanor (McCary) Tarleton writes: "My traveling as a navy wife has led me from Key West to the Great Lakes, but now it is all over. My husband has been released from active duty and we are ready to settle down as civilians. There is a possibility that Atlanta may be the location, and that would suit me perfectly, as I hold very fond memories of the South and guess I shall always remain a Rebel at heart. While in Key West I bumped into Mary Stallings and Bertie Williams. It was good to see some Wesleyannes. Carol (Jones) Carlisle and I had several nice visits in Miami, and I was happy to meet her husband and the baby, Diane."

1941

Ina (Dudley) Humes and her son, James Edward, born March 7, are with Capt. Humes at Fort Knox, Ky.

Mary Haines (Davidson) Leonard's husband has received his discharge from the army, having been on active duty since September, 1940, and served 20 months overseas. He was wounded in Normandy on D-Day.

Eugenia (Davis) Ash's husband, Major Ben Ash, previously reported missing over Yugoslavia, was later reported safe. Eugenia's friends rejoice with her.

Alfred Merle (Dorman) Sauve has been at home while her husband was stationed at Moody Field, Valdosta. She saw Grace (Freeman) Dennis and her young son, Freeman, in Valdosta. Grace's husband has gone overseas. Martha (Ramsey) Gray's husband is also at Moody Field.

A visitor to the Wesleyan campus during the summer—"just because I got homesick to see the old college!" was Eleanor (Shelton) Morrison of Chicago. She was visiting relatives in Atlanta and took the bus to Macon in order to spend a few hours on the campus. She is the same attractive person, looking not a day older than when she graduated "summa cum laude."

1942

Although Mary Stewart (Becking) Smith says that she has lost contact with many of her classmates, she sends much interesting news of some of them and of herself. She writes: "Since my last visit to Wesleyan I have made two trips across the continent and have lived in San Francisco, Portland, Los Angeles, Miami, and home again. Now that peace is in sight, my fondest wish is to have Alfred come home soon so that we can stay in one place long enough to buy large, economy-sized cans and packages of everything!"

"As for myself, the biggest news in my life is the arrival of my chubby little girl, Karin Ann, last May 28. (Incidentally she is named for her daddy's ship, the U.S.S. Karin, of which he is executive officer and navigator. He has been in the Pacific since January, so naturally he is more than anxious to meet his new daughter.)

"Martha (Aiken) Pendergrast and her husband, Dr. "Bill," are living in Atlanta while he holds a surgery internship at Grady Hospital. "Beebo" and Henry Jennings live in the same apartment house and Henry, too, is an intern. Jane (Gary) Miller is in Pensacola where her navy lieutenant husband is stationed temporarily. The last time I heard from Virginia (Broome) Waterer she and her husband were in Louisiana where he was taking special training before going overseas. Betty King married Lt. (jg) William Joseph Trowbridge at Highlands, N. C., on July 8. Ruth (Carleton) Rebik is happily situated in Brownsville, Tenn., where her husband is in business. Sarah Smoot is working for T.V.A. here in Chattanooga.

"Jean Gott married Sgt. Sam Morris of Memphis last week. Marguerite (Pickel) Carpenter is at home with her parents while her husband, Lt. Ward DuPaul Carpenter, is in Europe. She has a son, Ward III. Ruth Whittenburg is working for the American Trust and Banking Company in Chattanooga."

Stevens (Dessau) Ashmore's husband has received the Silver Star medal for gallantry in helping to hold the bridgehead at Hamm, Germany, on April 2. He has returned from overseas, and he and Stevens and their son are in their own home in Macon.

Rebecca (Griffin) Barton has a little daughter, Mary Lynn, born July 14.

May McMillan has been working this summer on her M.A. degree at Mercer. She is teaching now in the Macon school system.

Jacquelyn (Vickers) Hasell has two little daughters, Barbara and Sissy, who are planning to come to Wesleyan.

Bettye (Withers) Partridge has a second daughter, Elizabeth Randylyn, to be called "Randylyn" for her father, the late Flight Officer Elbert Randolph Partridge, Jr. Bettye and little Julie Lee, the baby's sister, have been making their home with Bettye's parents at 640 Linwood Ave., Atlanta.

Louie Frances Woodward is in her second year of medical school in Augusta, and she finds it hard but very thrilling. Her sister, Elizabeth (Woodward) Bradley's husband, Major H. J. Bradley, recently returned from England and the family had a reunion in Vienna with Louie (Fenn) Woodward, '06.

1943

Martha (Herman) Kenner has just the job she enjoys most—directing the Little Theater in Greenwood, S. C. She visited the conservatory in early October.

Norma (Koplin) Oliner's marriage on September 3 to Capt. Joseph K. Oliner was very sudden although the engagement was announced more than a year ago, before Capt. Oliner was sent overseas. Norma, working away at the Red Cross, got a hurried call from Joe, who was en route to the Pacific when his orders were changed and he got an unexpected leave. Norma joined his family in Connecticut and was there when he arrived. The wedding took place in Atlanta very quietly, and the couple came to Macon for a visit to the Koplins before Joe reported for duty on September 25.

Yvonne (Lee) Thrash and her young son, Jimmie, are happy to have Captain James A. Thrash, Jr., home from duty in China. While overseas Capt. Thrash received the Air Medal with Oak Leaf cluster, and the Distinguished Flying Cross. In June Yvonne saw Margy (Ragan) Smith whose husband, Lt. Col. Allen Smith, left for overseas duty three months before.

1944

Mary Ann Mathews writes in September: "I have intended writing you about the doings of my group of classmates, so here goes. Betty Allen is still at the same hospital. She has been there longer than any other Red Cross worker, so despite her mere 21 years she is the senior recreational worker, in charge of planning all the recreation for that big hospital, which is a tremendous responsibility. I'm mighty proud of Bet. She says she never realized how hard you have to work to keep playing all the time.

"Ethelyn Lindsay is working for a Hungarian photographer in New York. They have a terrific time trying to understand each other. She has to book all his appointments, keep the books, act as receptionist. She lives in a darlin' little Greenwich Village apartment she and Kate Johnson share with two girls from Louisiana.

"Dotte Smith's husband is a civilian now and they are with his people until the housing situation eases up in Louisville, Ky. She is happy as only Dotte can be happy—almost to the 'popping open from sheer joy' point, you know.

"Tab Lowe's husband, who was missing over India for some weeks is expected back in the states any minute. Tab's on needles and pins, naturally.

"I'm still with the Telephone Company in Columbus, though now have my own big ole desk and fancy title of Service Representative. I adore the work—something different every day."

Ruth (Powell) Glass received two telegrams from the War Department in July to the effect that both her father, Lt. Col. Thomas N. Powell, and her brother, Maj. Thomas N. Powell, Jr., were killed last December 15 while being transported as prisoners of war to Japan. The two had been interned since the fall of Bataan. Another brother, Lt. Robert P. Powell, was also a prisoner of war in Japan, and was recently released. In September Ruth received word that he would soon be home.

Mary (Smith) Starr wrote in July that her husband was on his way home from overseas, having completed his missions in ten months. She is delighted to change jobs from teaching to keeping house for him.

Sally Veatch is teaching this year at Lander College, having had a most interesting summer with the Emory University Players in their presentation of Romeo and Juliet.

1945

Evelyn (Horn) Wooten is with her mother in Atlanta while her husband, Major William B. Wooten, Jr., is in Germany with the army of occupation. Her little daughter, Katherine Raiford (called "Kathy") is now nearly two years old.

1946

Nancy Harmon, studying now at Vanderbilt University, was in Macon for a brief visit this summer with her grandmother, Mamie (Feagin) Harmon of the class of 1890. She stopped by Covington on her way back to Spartanburg to see her classmate, Florrie Jean (Smith) Cochran, who has a little daughter, born in June. The baby is named "Linda" for Flossie's mother, the late Linda (McKibben) Wilson of the class of 1926.

1945 GRADUATES

Following is the information about the youngest alumnae class, as gleaned from the answers to cards sent out by the Alumnae Office during the summer. If you failed to send back your card, won't you let us hear from you before the next magazine?

Lois Anderson has a grand job working for the Navy Special Hospital in the Disbursing Office near her home, and will be there through next year.

Helene (Andrews) Arrington is busy keeping house and looking after her very active little daughter, Roxanna.

Flora Bailey is secretary to Dr. H. P. Miller, Associate Dean of Emory University, and in January plans to continue her college work at Emory.

Jean (Benefield) Dillard joined her husband, a lieutenant in the air corps, in Miami in the summer.

Ina (Blair) Nau wrote: "We're in Greenville, S. C., for a while. My husband will probably be flying with American Air Lines by September, and I don't know where we'll be living."

Winifred Bosch's new address is 170-23 84th Drive, Jamaica, N. Y. She plans to come back to Wesleyan for Thanksgiving.

Dimple Brison is working as Engineer Data Clerk in the Construction Department of the Telephone Company in Atlanta, her address 1923 Lakewood Terrace, S. E.

Alice Childs is in the Maps and Surveys Division of the T.V.A. Her address is 4910 Brainerd Rd., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Carolyn Clark writes that she is teaching senior high school English in Monroe, Ga.

Mildred Collins is studying at Wesleyan Conservatory.

Miriam Chylinski was married during the summer to Peer Lykke of Norway in New Orleans.

Winifred Colquitt wrote: "I'm aircraft communicator trainee and should have my certificate by January. We relay flight plans, weather information, and any data that might make flying easier and safer for the pilots. I am in Florence, S. C., and my address is 801 W. Evans St."

Jean Cone is teaching speech in the junior and senior high schools in Thomasville, and is rooming with Lucile Carter. She is teaching music education there.

Joyce Daniel has been studying all summer at G.A.B., planning to get a job in the fall.

Tommie Daniel is at home in Augusta.

Wylene Dillard wrote: "I am working in the Payroll Section of Civilian Personnel at Camp Wheeler. Ken got home June 6 and had a two months' leave before going to Miami for redistribution. He looked grand, and we have had a wonderful time."

Pauline Domingos began work in September with the Telephone Company in Macon as a Service Representative.

Harry Edwards has been writing delightful, informal society notes for The Macon Telegraph since graduation.

Lorena Durden, B.M., is teaching piano this year in Ft. Valley, Ga.

Ann Fincannon, B.F.A., is doing freelance art work in Jacksonville this year, making use of her Wesleyan training.

Mary Ellen Findlay is studying at Wesleyan Conservatory.

Margie Fiske, now Mrs. L. D. Stewart, wife of a lieutenant in the air corps, is with her husband now at Miami Beach, Fla.

Virginia Foster is studying at Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School in New York.

Dot Frazer is working in a florist shop in Columbus.

Joyce Gasque is teaching at the Orange Street School at her home in St. Augustine, Fla.

Lois Goldman is working on her M.A. degree in guidance at Teachers' College, Columbia University. She writes: "I feel very lonesome for Wesleyan, the campus, friends, and teachers. The magazine helps our class to feel closer to the college."

Laurel Dean Gray is teaching fourth grade at Winship School in Macon. During the summer she helps with the switchboard at Wesleyan.

Sara Griffin is director of Christian Education at Central Methodist Church in Meridian, Miss.

Betty Hearn is photographer-reporter on The Anderson Daily Mail, afternoon paper of Anderson, S. C. Her little sister, Joyce, is a freshman at Wesleyan.

Dorothy Herndon is taking a business course in Elberton, and says that the chief advantage is that there is nothing to keep her from coming to Wesleyan for Thanksgiving!

Jean Herritage is teaching music in the Adel-Sparks High School.

Bettie Ann Hotaling's engagement to Lt. Byron Lanier Bland, Jr., was announced during the summer.

Eleanor Hoyt wrote: "Have been to the first meeting of the Atlanta Club group of which I am a member. Rita (Santry) McGill is new president; Lilly Lake, vice-president; Elinor Rees, treasurer; and I am secretary. I've been loafing all summer, but on September 10 became director of the Fritz Orr Girls' Club."

Elizabeth Jones has accepted a position as secretary to Dean Eady of Emory-at-Oxford. Elizabeth should have been listed in the August magazine among the alumnae relatives, for she represents the third generation of Wesleys in her family. Her mother is Annie (Dickey) Jones of the class of 1913, and her grandmother Jessie (Munroe) Dickey of 1887. Her father, the Rev. Henry Hart Jones, Superintendent of the Decatur-Oxford District, is a Trustee of Wesleyan, and his mother, the late Ida (Rogers) Jones, was a member of the class of 1879. Elizabeth's sister, Jessie Munroe Jones, is a Wesleyan graduate of 1940, and her younger sister, Laura, will graduate in 1946. In the Wesleyan library are many books purchased with money from the Jessie Munroe Dickey Fund, given to Wesleyan by Elizabeth's grandfather, the late Bishop Dickey, in honor of his wife.

Helene (Jones) Schwartz's wedding was a lovely event of August 25 in Ma-

Genevieve Kepler was married on September 5 to William James Wilson, Jr., of DeLand, Fla., and Sara McClure, her Wesleyan roommate, was a bridesmaid. She is living now at 127 S. Julia Ave., DeLand.

Dean Kyker is secretary with the Tennessee Eastman Corporation in Kingsport, Tenn.

Dorothy Lachmund has a position at Rich's in Atlanta.

Martha Martin is at home in Shellman, Ga.

Virginia Martin is working in a bank in Barbourville, Ky., and writes that she does miss the Southern accents at Wesleyan!

Jane (Methvin) Jones was married in the summer to Lt. Thomas Moore Jones, Jr., brother of Helene Jones, at a beautiful ceremony in Atlanta.

Jean Mitchell is teaching history at Washington Seminary in Atlanta.

Bettye Milton wrote: "About a week after graduation the job I had hoped for was dumped into my lap and I found myself installed as receptionist at radio station WGST in Atlanta."

Irene Nell, daughter of Dr. Raymond B. Nell of the Wesleyan faculty, is assistant to the dean of women at the University of Indiana, and will also do some graduate study.

Ann Nesbitt is working with T.V.A. in Chattanooga, address 213 Brookfield Ave.

Emily Norton is teaching music in Tallulah Falls, Ga.

Catherine Page is teaching speech in the Fitzgerald public schools.

Ann Poitevint is taking a lab technician's course in Atlanta. Her address is 1225 Clifton Rd., N. E.

Gertha (Purveyer) Holmes had planned a big wedding for June 15, but when

Cpl. Holmes was unable to get a furlough she and her mother went to Tacoma, Wash., for the marriage. Her husband is instructor at Ft. Lewis, and they live at 4502 East F St., Tacoma. Gertha says they can look out of their window and see snow-capped Mt. Rainer.

Mary Eva Ray is doing case work with the Family Welfare Society in Atlanta, her address being 363 Candler St., N. E.

Gwendolyn Resnick began her study August 27 at the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York. She writes that she is sad at the thought of not returning to Wesleyan.

Jamie Richards is working in a laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Frances Rushton wrote: "I am in the complaint department of Rich's and this fall plan to go to night school. Eleanor Hoyt, Bettye Milton, Mary Eva Ray, Dimple Brison and I are all in Atlanta, and we are expecting Dot Lachmund and Jean Mitchell before long."

Rebecca Shipley has been working this summer with the Columbus League of Women Voters, a job for which she thanks her Wesleyan experience. In September she began teaching geography and health in the junior high school in Columbus.

Eva Spence is back at Wesleyan Conservatory, having received the scholarship in the speech department, and is working on her B.F.A. She says: "This is the work I really love and I shall enjoy every minute. Sally Veatch and I got some good practice this summer, working with the Emory Players in their presentation of Romeo and Juliet."

Mary Standifer is taking a laboratory technician's course at Emory.

Effie Thornton is flight stewardess with Pan-American Airways, flying from Miami to Balboa. Her address is 555 N. E. 63rd St., Miami, 38, Fla.

Frances Thurman is taking a medical technician course at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, having begun October 1.

Mary Frances Webb is taking a nurse's training course at Emory University Hospital.

Maude Whaley Williamson is studying art at William and Mary in Williamsburg.

Margaret Wise is doing Red Cross work in Macon.

Julia York's Wesleyan friends were distressed when she was stricken with polio in July, but rejoice that she is making steady improvement and has every chance for complete recovery. Recently she had the exciting experience of talking over long distance to her fiancé, Pvt. Ralph B. Welch, in Geneva, Switzerland. Her picture, taken when she graduated from Wesleyan, had won first place in the 398th Infantry contest, and Ralph got a trip to Geneva as his reward.